At the Thirty-sixth Annual Meeting of the Church Missionary Society for Africa and the East, held in Exeter Hall, Strand, on Tuesday, May 3, 1836.

The Right Hon. the EARL of CHICHESTER, President, in the Chair.

THE REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE HAVING BEEN READ BY THE CLERICAL SECRETARY—

On a Motion by the Right Rev. the Lord Bishop of Winchester, seconded by the Rev. Dr. Duff, Missionary of the Church of Scotland to Calcutta,

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That the Report, of which an Abstract has been read, be received, and printed under the direction of the Committee; and that this Meeting cordially and gratefully rejoices in the enlargement of the Society at home, and the growth of its pecuniary resources, as a means, under the Divine Blessing, of extending its operations abroad.

On a Motion of the Right Rev. the Lord Bishop of Chester, seconded by the Rev. John William Cunningham,

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That this Meeting learns with satisfaction, that a Mission is about to be commenced to China; and that, though deeply impressed with the difficulties of the undertaking, the Meeting is encouraged by the Divine promises and present providential indications to trust, that, through the outpouring of the Spirit from on high, barriers hitherto insuperable will be surmounted, and the glorious Gospel of the Blessed God at length win its way to the millions of perishing Idolaters in the vast Chinese Empire.

On a Motion of the Most Hon. the Marquess of Cholmondeley, seconded by the Rev. Professor Scholefield,

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That this Meeting has learned with deep concern the trying and painful situation in which the Tinnevelly Mission is at present placed; but that, while the Meeting derives its chief consolation from committing the future course of the Mission to Him who loved the Church, and gave Himself for it, it thankfully recognises the advantages which the Madras Committee enjoy in the experienced and affectionate mind of Bishop Corrie, President of that Committee, for concerting and carrying into execution suitable measures for the restoration of peace and good order in the Mission.

On a Motion of the Very Rev. Dean Pearson, seconded by the Rev. Hugh Stowell,

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That this Meeting thankfully recognises the favour of God, manifested to the Missionaries in New Zealand, in protecting them, and in blessing their work during more than twenty years: and that, while it cordially rejoices in the enlargement of the Society's operations in that Island, it prays that the Word of God may have free course, and be glorified, till all New Zealand be made obedient to the faith.

On a Motion of Captain Allen F. Gardiner, R.N., seconded by the Rev. Peter Roe,

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That this Meeting contemplates with mingled feelings of encouragement and responsibility the openings presented at the present day for the extension of Missionary Labours in different parts of the World, and regards that in Southern Africa, recently brought under the notice of the Committee, as a hopeful field of exertion; and that, in the want of means adequately to improve opportunities presented, the Meeting recognises the solemn duty of imploring, from on High, a larger measure of that primitive love for Christ, and zeal for the salvation of souls, which may constrain suitable men willingly to give themselves to the service of the Lord, as Missionaries: and that the thanks of the Meeting be given to the Venerable the Archdeacon Spooner, for his Sermon before the Society, last evening; to the Rt. Hon. the President; to the Vice-Patrons and the Vice-Presidents; and to all those friends, who, during the past year have exerted themselves in its behalf;—and that the following Gentlemen be appointed the Committee for the year ensuing, with power to fill up vacancies. (See List, after Vice-Presidents.)

LAWS AND REGULATIONS

OF THE

CHURCH MISSIONARY SOCIETY FOR AFRICA AND THE EAST.

I. THIS Institution shall be designated "The Church Missionary Society for Africa and the East;" and shall be conducted by Patrons, Vice-Patrons, a President, Vice-Presidents, a Committee, and such Officers as may be deemed necessary, all being Members of the Established Church.

II. The office of PATRONS of the Society shall be reserved for such Members of the Royal Family as may honour it with their protection. VICE-PATRONS shall be appointed exclusively from among the Peers, Spiritual and Temporal. The PRESIDENT shall be such Peer or Commoner, and the VICE-PRESIDENTS such Commoners, as may be appointed thereto.

OF MEMBERS AND GOVERNORS.

III. Annual Subscribers of One Guinea and upwards, and if Clergymen, Half-a-Guinea, with Collectors of Fifty-two Shillings and upwards per annum, shall be Members of the Society during the continuance of such Subscriptions or Collections. Benefactors of Ten Guineas or upwards, Clergymen making Congregational Collections to the amount of Twenty Guineas, and Executors paying to the amount of Fifty Pounds, shall be Members for Life.

IV. Annual Subscribers of Five Guineas shall be Governors during the continuance of such Subscription; and Benefactors of Fifty Pounds and upwards shall be Governors for Life.

V. Members and Governors of Associations who contribute the above sums shall be considered as Members and Governors of the Parent Society.

VI. The Committee shall have the power of appointing such persons as have rendered essential services to the Society, either Members for Life, or Governors for Life.

OF GENERAL MEETINGS.

VII. An Annual Meeting of the Members of the Society shall be held in London, on the First Tuesday in May; unless that day shall fall on the 7th of May, in which case the Annual Meeting shall be held, for that year, on Tuesday, the 30th of April; when the Proceedings of the foregoing year shall be reported, the Accounts presented, and a Treasurer and Committee chosen.

VIII. A Special General Meeting of the Members of the Society, at which not less than Thirty shall constitute a Quorum, shall be called at any time, at the requisition of the General Committee; or by any Thirteen Members, on addressing a Letter to the Secretary, specifying the object of the Meeting. Ten days' notice shall be given in Three public Newspapers, of any such intended Meeting, and of the purpose for which it is called; which shall be deemed sufficient publicity.

IX. None of the Rules of the Society shall be repealed or altered, nor any new ones established, but at the Annual Meeting, or at a Special Meeting called for that purpose.

X. An Anniversary Sermon shall be preached at some Church in London, by a Clergyman appointed by the General Committee. An Annual Report of the Society shall be printed, for the use of its Members.

OF THE COMMITTEE.

XI. The Committee shall consist of Twenty-four Lay Members of the Established Church; and of all such Clergymen as are Members of the Society. Eighteen Members shall be annually appointed from the Old Committee, and Six from the General Body.

XII The COMMITTEE shall elect, at their First Meeting in every year, either from among themselves, or from the other Members of the Society (being Members of the Established Church) a Committee of Patronage, a Committee of Funds, a Committee of Correspondence, and a Committee of Accounts. Each of the said Committees shall keep Minutes of its Proceedings, and shall report the same to the General Committee.

XIII. The office of the Committee of Patronage is, to procure patronage and support to the Society; and to nominate, to the General Committee, proper persons, as Patrons, Vice-Patrons, and Vice-Presidents of the Society.

XIV. The office of the Committee of Funds is, to circulate information respecting the Society; to adopt proper means of augmenting the Subscriptions and Benefactions; to obtain Collections in Churches and Chapels; and to nominate, from time to time, to the General Committee, suitable persons to act as Agents for the Society in the principal Towns throughout the Empire.

XV. The office of the Committee of Correspondence is, to seek for proper Missionaries, to superintend their instruction, and to correspond with them when sent out.

XVI. The office of the Committee of Accounts is, to see that the Subscriptions are duly received, regulate the accounts, and undertake the charge of fitting out and conveying the Missionaries to their places of destination.

XVII. The General Committee shall receive the Reports of the other Committees, shall appoint the places where Missions shall be attempted, shall direct the scale upon which they shall be conducted, and shall superintend the affairs of the Society in general.

XVIII. The General Committee shall meet on the Second Monday in every Month, and oftener if needful; the other Committees as often; and at such places as shall be by them agreed on: their Meetings to be always opened with reading a Form of Prayer composed for that purpose, or one or more suitable Prayers selected from the Liturgy. Five Members shall be necessary to compose a General Committee; and Three, each of the others. In case of equality of votes, the Chairman shall be entitled to a second or casting vote.

XIX. The Patrons, Vice-Patrons, and President, Vice-Presidents, Treasurer, and Secretaries, shall be considered ex-officio Members of all Committees.

XX. Governors, being Members of the Established Church, shall be entitled to attend and vote at all Meetings of the General Committee.

XXI. All Payments on account of the Society shall be signed by Three of the General Committee, in Committee, and the Lay Secretary.

XXII. The Committee shall have power to appoint such Officers and Assistants as they shall deem necessary for the well-conducting of the affairs of the Society, subject to the approbation of the next Annual Meeting.

XXIII. Five Auditors shall be appointed by the Committee, annually, for the purpose of auditing the Accounts of the Society; of whom, Three shall be chosen from the General Body. Three shall be a Quorum.

XXIV. The Life Subscriptions, or a sufficient part thereof, to be equal to the Subscriptions of the existing Members for Life, shall be placed in the Public Funds, in the names of Four of the General Committee; who, on their acceptance of the trust, shall sign a declaration of the nature of it, and that they will relinquish the same whenever called upon for that purpose by the General Committee.

OF MISSIONARIES.

XXV. In the appointment of Candidates for the Missionary Office, the following course shall be pursued:——The Committee of Correspondence having found a person supposed to be suitable, shall determine by ballot to nominate him to the General Committee. Previous to the day of nomination, each Member of the General Committee shall receive notice of such nomination. On the day of nomination, a report shall be made, by some Member of the Committee of Correspondence, of his qualifications; and the General Committee shall then proceed to ballot for him, unless any Member shall declare that he wishes for further information; in which case the ballot shall be deferred till the next Meeting of the General Committee. In the ballot of either Committee, the agreement of at least Three-fourths of the Members present shall be necessary to his election.

XXVI. A Candidate thus chosen shall receive instruction in such parts of knowledge, and be prepared in such a manner for his future employment, as the Committee of Correspondence shall judge expedient.

XXVII. If, during such preparation, any Two Members of the General Committee should see cause to disapprove of his principles or conduct, they may submit the subject to a Special Meeting of the Committee; and, if deemed proper, the Committee may appoint another ballot, to determine whether he shall be continued as a Candidate; of which special notice shall be given to each Member.

XXVIII. Each Candidate shall consider himself as engaged to go to any part of the world, and at any time, which the Committee shall choose: respect, however, being had to his personal circumstances, or to any previous stipulation made by him with the Society. As soon as he quits England, he shall keep a regular Journal of his studies and proceedings; a copy of which he shall send, as often as opportunity shall serve, to the Secretaries.

XXIX. Each Candidate, after due preparation, shall, if not admitted to Holy Orders, be appointed by the Committee to act as a Catechist. If admitted to Holy Orders, he shall be appointed a Missionary.

XXX. The Missionaries who go out under the direction of this Society shall be allowed to visit home, permission having been previously obtained from the General Committee: and after having laboured in the cause of the Society to the satisfaction of the Committee, at the Stations committed to their care, until age or infirmity prevent further exertion, suitable provision shall be made to render their remaining days comfortable. The General Committee shall have the power to assist also, in particular cases, the dependent Relatives of those Missionaries, who, by devoting themselves to the service of the Society, are prevented from contributing to their support.

XXXI. A friendly intercourse shall be maintained with other Protestant Societies engaged in the same benevolent design of propagating the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

XXXII. It is recommended to every Member of the Society to pray to Almighty God for a blessing upon his designs; under the full conviction, that, unless He "prevent us, in all our doings, with His most gracious favour, and further us with His continual help," we cannot reasonably hope to meet with persons of a proper spirit and qualifications to be Missionaries, or expect their endeavours to be crowned with success.

PHILIPPIANS II. part of verse 16.

HOLDING FORTH THE WORD OF LIFE.

THE privileges of Christians, and their duties, are intimately and inseparably connected. The Apostle had spoken to the Philippians of consolation in Christ—comfort of love—fellowship of the Spirit—bowels and mercies: and he exhorted them, by their EXPERIENCE of these fruits of the divine benignity, to cherish in their hearts all holy dispositions, and to manifest in their lives the graces of humility and love. Thus would they be blessed in themselves, through the rich grace of their God and Saviour; and they would be made blessings to others, both by their example, and by their deeds of active charity.

In addressing you, my Brethren, on the important subject of Missions to the Heathen—fully sensible of my own inadequacy to do any thing like justice to the subject, I am yet encouraged to comply with your request, in the full persuasion, that both now, and previously, your prayers ascend with mine to the Throne of Grace, for a divine blessing on the work in which we are engaged—that blessing, which alone could render effectual even an Apostle's ministrations, but which can more than compensate the feebleness of any human instrument.

From the Apostle's exhortation, then, in my text, we may clearly discern the full operation, in his mind, of those principles and convictions which lead to all Missionary exertions; and from which we deduce the duty of originating, and consequently of continuing, and carrying on in advance, such endeavours. In the judgment of the Apostle, therefore, mankind, ignorant of God, constitute a perverse and crooked nation. But Christians, on the contrary, are the sons of God: they are enlightened by His Spirit, which dwelleth in them: and thus they become lights in the world, shining in the midst of darkness.

Alas! there may be great darkness in the minds of many, even of those who live within the influence of the light, and who ought themselves to be lights in the world. The light may shine around them, and yet not shine into their hearts; so that they do not discover the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ. If there be such in this congregation, may He, who is the Author and Giver of all good, vouchsafe to penetrate, with His heavenly beams of light and love, the inmost recesses of their souls!

But it is with the darkness of PAGANISM (to which the apostle refers when he tells his Philippians that THEY shine as lights in the world) that we are NOW more especially concerned;—that, our minds being duly impressed with the awful consideration of the darkness in which the Heathen are involved, we may pray more earnestly to our Heavenly Father to send forth His light and truth; and that we ourselves may more actively, largely, and cheerfully contribute our best endeavours to the enlightening of a benighted world.

Gross indeed is the moral and spiritual darkness which covers a large portion of our fellow-creatures! Heathenism, my Christian Brethren, is NOT IMPROVED by the lapse of ages: it remains still the concentration of ignorance, and of hatred, of God. The foolish heart of man is still darkened: and, in their folly, men still change the glory of the incorruptible God into an image made like to corruptible man, and birds, and four-footed beasts, and creeping things. Both in the civilized, and among the savage tribes of men who have not received the gospel, there is a total ignorance of HIM who made heaven and earth—of THAT GOD, and of Jesus Christ His Son, "in the knowledge of whom standeth our eternal life." They are in darkness, and they walk in darkness; and they know not whither they are going, for that darkness hath blinded their eyes—and THAT darkness is the darkness of DEATH. They are DEAD; as were the Ephesians, before their conversion to God[a]—dead in trespasses and sins—dead, as were the Colossians[b], till Christ quickened them—dead, as all, without exception, must be, who have not received forgiveness of their sins through the Redeemer's precious blood; nor attained meetness for the heavenly inheritance, through sanctification of the Spirit, and belief of the truth[c].

Christian Brethren! let us but view their awful condition, as the Scriptures represent it; and consider the large portion of the human race (probably not less than three-fourths of the whole family of man) thus living, and thus dying, either in total ignorance, or in the rejection of that only Name which is given among men, whereby we may be saved. And WHO, amongst us all, is not ashamed of his own supineness, as respects the Heathen—of his feeble efforts, his unfrequent prayers, his vacillating endeavours, on their behalf? And WHOSE breast does not burn inwardly to do SOMETHING, whatever may be within the scope of his ability, to communicate to them that blessed gospel, which is the power of God unto salvation, to every one that believeth?

But, on the other hand, the Apostle represents Christians as in the light. The Church has arisen at her Saviour's call, and shines, because her light is come. The Son of God proclaimed, I am the light of the world. He that follows me, shall not walk in darkness, but shall have the light of life. To them, therefore, who follow Jesus, the darkness is past, and the true light now shineth. They are in the light, as He is in the light. They know God, as their Father; Jesus, as their Saviour; the Holy Ghost, as their Comforter and Sanctifier; the way of obedience, as their safe road; death, as their gain; heaven, their everlasting home. Thus they are illuminated.—But WHY are they so? and with what intent?—The Apostle informs us—that they may shine as lights in the world. The Church, the collective body of faithful Christians, is as a city set on an hill, seen and known of all men. By the heavenly conversation, the holy lives, the unwearied labours of its members—by their patient continuance in well-doing —by their open confession of Christ before men, and that even unto death—the Church accomplishes its high destination of enlightening the darkness of this world; it represents to the world the character of its Lord; it manifests His love, His mercy, His holiness; it declares His power to save.

Such lively members of Christ, such constituent parts of His Church, were the saints in Christ Jesus at Philippi. Each of them had received a portion of the light which is from heaven. And, as one long struggling in darkness to find his road, amidst intricacies and dangers—having, through friendly aid, obtained light, and, thus emerging, has gained a safe and tranquil station—as such an one would be prompted, even by common benevolence, to EXTEND his light for the rescue of others—still grappling with his former difficulties—so should the Philippians individually and collectively extend, "hold forth," by every means in their power, the SAVING LIGHT, which themselves, through the goodness of God, possessed, to guide their benighted countrymen, and others also, into the way of peace and safety. In so doing, they would contribute to the very end for which the Apostle himself lived and laboured and died a martyr: and their efforts being prospered of God, he would rejoice in the day of Christ, that he had not run in vain, neither laboured in vain. And who can tell, whether our own possession of the Christian Truth at this day may not, under God, be owing, as a REMOTE cause, to the faithful and persevering exertions of these first European converts to spread that light in the regions beyond them, and diffuse the saving knowledge of Christ which themselves had received?

My Christian Brethren, is not the same duty of extending to others the word of life incumbent on US also; and that, in a pre-eminent degree? God has given to our country (a professedly Christian community), a dominion, and an influence, far greater than ever before were entrusted to any Christian Nation. Were INDIA alone committed to us, there, as we learn from high authority, are "One hundred and thirty-four millions of Hindoos and Mahomedans, living under British sway, or British influence[a]." I ask then, OUGHT not this country, PROFESSING THE RELIGION OF JESUS—OUGHT IT NOT to arise, as one man, to a sense of its duty to those benighted and endangered souls? Ought not the effort to be made, by every means in our power, to hold forth to THEM the word of life? Ought not Missionaries to be sent among them, duly qualified for the work by their talents and learning, by their zeal and discretion? Ought not Christian churches to be built, where congregations are gathered from among the Heathen? Ought not the Scriptures—the word of life—translated as they now are into the various languages which prevail in that vast territory—blessed be God for the unspeakable gift!—ought they not to be generally dispersed? Should not native converts be fostered and encouraged in an humble and consistent profession of the gospel? and should not Schools be formed, and Teachers and Catechists be enabled to exercise their calling where scholars can be collected?

This would be, in some degree, to act consistently with the Apostle's admonition, of holding forth the word of life—in employing the influence committed to us, for the glory of God, and for the good of man. And, while no force was put, nor attempted, upon the minds of the Heathen, the benefits of such a system of Christian benignity might, and probably would, tend, far beyond all other means, to bind these millions to our sway, and to lengthen and perpetuate, rather than to impair, in those distant regions, our hitherto unexampled dominion.

And now, my Christian Brethren, the CHURCH MISSIONARY SOCIETY, in whose cause we are this day assembled as supplicants at the Throne of Grace, is formed for the very purpose of fulfilling to India (and to other countries, so far as they come within the scope of its benevolent labours) those high purposes for which the dominion is given to our beloved country: and, according to its means, our Society has laboured faithfully in its vocation. To HIM indeed be the praise, from whom "all holy desires, all good counsels, and all just works, do proceed"! May He vouchsafe, through your instrumentality, to increase its ability, and to enlarge its operations on every side!

And, to this end, permit me now to lay before you, more distinctly, some considerations, which ought to induce us gladly to participate, as we may be able, in the labours of this truly Christian Institution.

I.—Of these, the FIRST is, THE SAVIOUR'S EXPRESS COMMAND: Go ye into all the world: preach the gospel to every creature.

It is a command WHICH HAS NEVER BEEN REPEALED. The obedience required to it can be limited ONLY by the means of access: and Christians, for ages, after the times of the Apostles, understood it to be their duty to carry the blessed gospel to all places and countries destitute of it, wherever a door was opened, and access to the Teachers of the Faith was permitted. Thus WE ourselves became enlightened in the faith of Christ;—and, as the command still remains, and the duty is still ours, suffer me to ask, Are we awakening, in this respect, to a sense of our obligations? Are WE, ON THIS OCCASION, ready to DO WHAT WE CAN, in conformity with that command, in preparing the means by which the Heathen may have that gospel preached to them? Are WE pondering the apostle's important question, How shall they believe in Him of whom they have not heard? and how shall they hear without a preacher? and how shall they preach, except they be sent?

Brethren, on your prayers—on your charitable aid—on your co-operating endeavours, does this our Society rely, under God, that Preachers may be sent, where the Lord, by His Providence, has clearly opened a door for the entrance of His gospel; and where, therefore, His command to His Church is plain, Go ye, and preach the gospel. —What you cannot do yourselves, to that you may effectually contribute, by the instrumentality of others: and this readiness, as you have on former occasions most largely and liberally manifested it, so we trust you will also at this time; and that you are prepared to show, that, however it may be with the world at large, YOU at least DO FEEL the duty of obeying the command of your Lord and Saviour.

II. But again:—The Lord has entrusted to us MEANS SUFFICIENT for a large extension of Missionary efforts.

I need not dwell on this part of my subject, so ably enforced as it has been by Preachers among you, on former similar occasions. Were the wealth of this land indeed holiness unto the Lord—were the silver and the gold considered, as they really are, HIS PROPERTY, and to be employed for His glory—there would be no deficiency of means to send forth MANY Labourers into His harvest. The pecuniary means, at least, of such a supply, are not wanting, if only there were a general willingness to impart them. There may be many a wealthy person here present, perhaps long a Contributor to this Society, but who has yet made NO SACRIFICE to its cause — who, misled by custom, has lived in every easy and indulgent gratification of our luxurious days; and scarcely considering how much he could spare, without personal suffering and without injury to any with whom he is connected;—and we would venture to ask of such an one, if such an one there be amongst us, whether there is not now a demand upon his Christian feelings, which should lead him to an IMMEDIATE EXTENSION of his pecuniary aid? When the chief Bishop of British India publishes to the world, that FIFTY CLERGYMEN are now wanting in that country[a]; and when he, so long and so well acquainted with the circumstances of this our Society, in whose cause he laboured from its commencement, and who was one of its most able and zealous advocates at home—when he naturally turns his eyes towards this Society, as alone likely to supply a considerable portion of these Labourers—when India therefore, by his voice, solicits the further aid of our Missionary Institution; when, also, this is but a SMALL PART of the cry which, from every quarter of the globe, is now reaching the ears of the Society—a cry for Missionaries to come and dwell among the Heathen, and teach them the ways of God;—and when our reply is, We have no resources for more extended operations; we have expended our means; we have faithfully laid out our income; and we need larger funds before we can advance on fresh fields of labour;—oh! will not the wealthy persons, before described, now dedicate to this worthy object some larger portion of their substance? and may we not even hope, that, instead of their Tens, and their Twenties, which they may have hitherto given, they will now give their Hundreds, or, if it be in their power, even their Thousands, to aid in the cause of the Redeemer, and to spread the saving knowledge of His Name?

My richer Brethren, on whom God has bestowed unnumbered earthly blessings, and has given them to you, we freely admit, even richly to enjoy, we ask you not unduly to abridge yourselves of those comforts; nor to deprive your children, your relations, or dependants, of any portion of that property wisely and justly and benevolently employed for their good;—we ask you not, to injure society by withholding your due contributions to the varied labours of the working classes around you, according to your station in life; nor to withdraw your charitable aid from objects (and there are many such) of pressing necessity at home;—but permit me to suggest, whether there are not, even in Christian families, needless and superfluous luxuries, which might well be spared, and the cost of them diverted into better channels?—whether there be not often, even in such houses, an useless accumulation of what tends only to outward splendour, to the gratification of the eye, and thus to nourish the pride of life? and whether, by the sacrifice of such gratifications, means might not be AT ONCE supplied, adequate to send forth to India, and that immediately, several at least of the Clergymen whom the Bishop of Calcutta solicits, to recruit his ranks? Thus, Brethren, might the cause of Christianity be greatly sustained in that country, and the Redeemer's Name be effectually made known through many a dark and Heathen district; while the blessing of God would largely rest on those who thus made a sacrifice (though really a very small one) for His Name's sake, and for the welfare of their fellow-creatures. He, whom we serve, is not unrighteous, to forget your work and labour of love, which ye have showed toward His Name, in that ye have ministered to the saints, and do minister.

Consider then, I humbly and affectionately entreat you, what has now been laid before you, on this subject: and the Lord give you understanding in all things!

India, my Brethren, has great moral and spiritual necessities; and Britain, connected with her by the wonderful Providence of God, alone can meet her wants. And shall she ask, IN VAIN, Fifty additional Labourers in the cause of God; while British Christians could AT ONCE, and with little sacrifice to themselves, supply the means of providing them?

In every one of our Missionary Stations, also, AID IS REQUIRED—an extension is asked for. Africa, both from the West and the South; New Zealand, with an affecting importunity; the Black Population of the West Indies, to which, in mere retributive justice, so much is due; ALL direct toward you their expecting eyes—ALL implore your benevolent aid. And shall wealthy Christians withhold the means of meeting these desires; and continue, instead, to employ their riches in useless luxuries, to squander them in vain ornaments, or to hoard them to no beneficial end? Where, then, is the constraining sense of the love of Christ? Where is the operative conviction, that, if He died for all, they for whom He died should not live unto themselves, but unto Him who died for them? Where is the faith which worketh by love? Where is the proof of our rightly feeling, that we are not our own, but that we are bought with a price?

Means then exist, Brethren, in our Christian Community, adequate to a large extension of the Missionary work. And by the due employment of these means—the members of our Society increasing in number as its operations are better known—the rich contributing to its funds liberally out of their abundance, and the poor casting in cheerfully their mite, according to the Saviour's gracious encouragement—this land, this Church, shall more completely act in accordance with the Apostle's exhortation: it shall hold forth the word of life, and that most beneficially, through God's blessing, to the nations which yet sit in darkness, and in the shadow of death.

III.—There are also peculiar FACILITIES, at this time, to these Christian efforts in behalf of the Heathen. But, passing over these, permit me to advert to the ENCOURAGEMENT afforded by the evident blessing of God on our Missionary labours. Wherever we direct our attention, the fields are white already to harvest; and they that reap, receive wages, and gather fruit unto life eternal. Has not the blessing of God evidently rested on every portion of the work in India? while, in some parts, there is a peculiar manifestation of the entering in, which the gospel has had among them. In Western Africa, the congregations, and the communicants at the Lord's Table, and the generally-consistent lives of professed converts (persons who a short time ago were entirely lost in heathen ignorance and debasing superstition, but now are Christians and communicants), show that the word of the Lord has come to them, also, in the power of the Holy Ghost; while, in New Zealand, the mind of him who sighs over the misery and the sinfulness of man is greatly refreshed, by beholding the reclaimed barbarian, the cannibal devourer of his enemies, now sitting at his Saviour's feet, clothed and in his right mind. Blessed then be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who, in every department of this field of labour, makes known, even by our feeble instrumentality, the savour of His knowledge, and the power of His grace! We expect no miracles, properly so called: we look for the extension of the gospel in the ordinary means of instruction, education, and intercourse; and especially, where congregations can be collected by the preaching of the word. And, if we have a command thus to labour—means afforded us for labouring, and facilities for the employment of those means, and the blessing of God attending the use of them—surely, Brethren, we have every motive which should influence the most reluctant; every encouragement, to support the most timid; every weighty reason to convince the most hesitating, that we ought to MAINTAIN, to the utmost of our power, that which, through the Lord's help, we have already wrought; and to EXTEND the line of our operations whereever the necessities of mankind may call for them, and the Providence of God may open our way.

But there are yet a few points, to which, in conclusion, I would briefly advert.

1. We have had some reference to the pecuniary means required by our Society for the maintenance and extension of its operations. But the PRESSING want, most difficult to be supplied, is that of HUMAN INSTRUMENTS. Our Society DOES need your silver and your gold; but it needs much more the voluntary services of SOME amongst ourselves—it needs men, qualified by health and talents, in full possession of their powers, willing to consecrate those powers of body and of mind, in the Lord's service, in this greatest and best of causes. Such there HAVE BEEN, whose memory is dear to us—now blessed with God; and whose self-devotion, though they nobly perished in the cause, largely contributed, in Africa and in India, to introduce the saving light of the gospel. Such also there ARE, now labouring to the same blessed end;—and very highly let them be esteemed in love, for their work's sake. "We have seen," my Brethren—to use the words of an eloquent deceased prelate[a], in describing the character of the faithful Missionary—"we have seen the Minister of the word go forth, with the zeal of an

[a] Bishop Hurd, before the Society for Propagating the Gospel.

Apostle and the constancy of a Martyr—we have seen him forsake ease and affluence, a competency at least, and the ordinary comforts of Society, and, with the gospel in his hands and the Saviour in his heart," "enduring all things, becoming all things, even to savage men, in patient hope of finding a way to their good opinion, and of succeeding, finally, in his unwearied endeavours to make the words of life and salvation not unacceptable to them." Yes, Brethren, we have seen such examples, blessed be the God of all grace! and that not unfrequently, in connexion with this Society; and more especially we have seen such instances in Africa, and of late in New Zealand: but WE HOPE FOR MANY MORE SUCH. Does not CHINA alone—if there were no other fields for extended Missionary labour—does not its dark, benighted state (a darkness like that of Egypt, which might be felt) appeal most forcibly to all the best feelings of our hearts? and are there not among us enlightened Christians, willing and qualified, through the grace of God, to make some efforts, though at the expense of personal sacrifices, to hold forth to the millions of that vast, benighted empire the words of eternal life?

We plead with you then, Brethren, to consecrate thus a portion (and, if in your power, a larger portion than hitherto you have done) of your earthly substance; that we may train men, and send them forth duly qualified for this work of God. But better far were it, that we had AN EXCESS OF LABOURERS, out of whom to select fit instruments for the work, than even an excess of means. He who contributes to supply THE MEANS, does well; but he who can devote HIMSELF to the work, with the approbation of his Brethren and of the Fathers of the Church, this person, thus devoting himself, through the powerful grace of God, does MUCH BETTER. According then to your ability, and to the means which God has given you, so do you dedicate what you are, and what you have, to His glory, and to promote the salvation of men; remembering, that the Lord loveth a cheerful giver.

2. Yet, after all, what do our Missionaries, with one voice ask of us, but PRAYER? Undaunted by their difficulties—undismayed by all the efforts of the Adversary—unwearied amidst the trials of their faith and patience, they seem to feel, with the Apostle, that all these things shall turn to the glory of God, and to their salvation, through the prayer of their fellow-Christians, and the supply of the Spirit of Jesus Christ.

This Society commenced, and has carried on, all its operations, in prayer for God's help and blessing. Each of its Missions began, and has been continued, by the same means. Thus, through prayer, and dependence on the Lord, means have been wonderfully provided for maintaining above Thirty Clergymen, and, in the whole, more than One Hundred Labourers, who are now doing the work of the Lord, in India. Would we still maintain their ranks, add to their usefulness, increase their numbers in that, and in other fields, white already to harvest, pray ye to the Lord of the harvest. Your prayers may effect much, when all other means are in vain. I beseech you, Brethren, for the Lord Jesus Christ's sake, and for the love of the Spirit, that ye strive together in prayer to God for our Missionaries; that by their means, and by all other faithful Missionaries, the word of the Lord may have free course, and be glorified.

In whatever way we regard the object before us—the greatness of the undertaking, involving in it the glory of God, and the present and future welfare of mankind—the extent of the field of labour—the comparative paucity of the Labourers—the difficulties they have to struggle with from without, and trials from within; from the weakness of fallen nature, and the power of evil—the impediments which may arise in their work, by the mixture of human infirmity (and who can expect it to be otherwise, when even Paul and Barnabas contended one with another and separated?)—when, on the other hand, we remember that the weapons of their warfare are not carnal; but must be supplied, or rendered effectual, ONLY by the Spirit of God; we have no resource, no consolation, no support to our hopes, in this work of faith and labour of love, but in calling to our aid the help of Omnipotence itself, by HUMBLE AND PERSEVERING PRAYER. And blessed be God, that, in this way, ALL, who have a Christian heart, though destitute of silver and gold and earthly advantages, CAN AID IT! When, therefore, you approach the Throne of Grace in the Name of the Redeemer, and by the help of the Spirit, remember, in your supplications, this and other similar Institutions, that, in their preparatory work at home, and in their active exertions abroad, they may be supported, directed, and cheered with the divine help and favour.

And Thou, O Lord, vouchsafe to prosper this work of our hands, till thy way shall be known upon earth, and thy saving health among all nations!

THE COMMITTEE.

DELIVERED, IN SUBSTANCE,

TO THE ANNUAL MEETING,

HELD MAY 3, 1836,

AT EXETER HALL, STRAND

REPORT,

&c. &c.

THE Committee have much satisfaction in submitting to the Members a Report of their proceedings during the past year; and earnestly invoke the blessing of Almighty God upon their assembling together on the Society's Thirty-sixth Anniversary.

STATE OF THE FUNDS.

The aggregate Receipts of the Year stand as follows:—

	£.	s.	d.
General Fund	67,691	4	2
Disabled Missionaries' Fund	630	7	6
Institution Buildings' Fund	32	18	10
Making a gross Total of.... £.	68,354	10	6

The gross Total of the preceding Year's Receipts stood thus:—

General Fund	68,627	18	3
Disabled Missionaries' Fund	890	8	8
Institution Buildings' Fund	63	17	9
£.	69,582	4	8

It will thus be seen, that, on the Totals of the two years, there is a decrease on the last of £1227. 14*s*. 2*d*. This general comparison, however, does not present a correct view of the actual financial situation of the Society. The Receipts of 1834-35 included the very large Legacy of the late Horatio Cock, Esq., amounting to £10,589. 19*s*. 3*d*. Deducting that sum from the total of the General Fund, £68,354. 10*s*. 6*d*., the Net Income for 1834-35 will be £58,037. 19*s*. On the other hand, deducting from the total on account of the General Fund for 1835-36, £67,691. 4*s*. 2*d*., the several sums of £2500 Government Grant for West-Indies' School-houses; £1362. 17*s*. 8*d*. West-Indies' Fund; and £1111. 11*s*. 3*d*. for Waimate Church, the Net Income, on account of the General Fund for 1835-36, will be £62,716. 15*s*. 3*d*. Deducting again the Net Income of 1834-35, as above explained, from that of 1835-36, it will show an increase of income on account of the General Fund in 1835-36, of £4678. 16*s*. 3*d*. Again: the amount of Association Contributions in 1834-35 was £47,759. 6*s*. 11*d*.; that of 1835-36, £52,093. 8*s*. 10*d*.

Hence it will be seen, that the increase during the last year, under this most important source of income, was £4334. 1*s*. 11*d*.

In the Receipts of the Year, the Committee had the satisfaction to include a Benefaction of £10. 10*s*. from her Royal Highness the Duchess of Kent.

On the other hand, the expenditure of the Society has pressed closely on its income; amounting, in the last year, to £64,213. 17*s*. 3*d*.; being £8575. 0*s*. 10*d*. more than that of the preceding year. In the expenditure of the year, some extraordinaries are included; but, after deducting these, a progressively augmenting expenditure requires to be provided for, in almost all the Missions. It is also to be remembered, that in the Receipts of the last year is included the sum of £2500 from Government for West-Indies' Schoolhouses; and that this is not only not income, but that the grant was made on condition of the Society's adding, in the expenditure of it, £1250 from its own funds. The zeal and exertions of the friends of Missions are therefore still called for, to sustain and carry forward the great work of dispensing the unsearchable riches of Christ to the Heathen.

PATRONAGE.

The Committee have the melancholy duty to record the death, during the last year, of one of the Vice-Patrons, the Hon. and Right Rev. the Lord Bishop of Lichfield and Coventry; and one of the Vice-Presidents, Major-General Macaulay—each of them, during twenty-three years, a firm, attached, zealous friend of the Society.

During the year, the Right Hon. the Earl of Galloway, and the Right Rev. Daniel Corrie, Lord Bishop of Madras, accepted the office of Vice-Patrons of the Society, and John P. Plumptre, Esq. M.P. that of Vice-President.

The following valued friends are also appointed Honorary Governors for life:—Rev. Francis Blick, Rev. Thomas Dikes, Rev. Joseph Fenn, Rev. Clement Leigh, and Lieut.-Col. Phipps.

ASSOCIATION PROCEEDINGS.

The Committee have again the satisfaction to report a considerable increase in the number of Associations. During the past year, Forty-two new ones were formed; exclusive of many old ones re-organized.

Under this head, the Committee gratefully record their acknowledgment of the valuable aid rendered to the Society by those Clerical friends who have aided as Deputations to Associations during the last year. Without this assistance, the increase of the official Association-agency made by the Committee would be totally insufficient to meet the openings for Sermons and Meetings which are multiplying in all parts of the country. Even with this aid, much has been left undone, which might have been done had the Committee had it in their power to supply deputations. They still consider it therefore their duty, in the most earnest manner, to urge on their Clerical friends, that their kind agency, as Deputations to Associations, is, under God, absolutely essential to the successful prosecution of the Society's operations at home, and, by consequence, to the extending them, or even to the adequately sustaining them, abroad.

MISSIONARIES AND STUDENTS.

DECEASE OR RETURN OF MISSIONARIES.

It has pleased God, in the course of the past year, to remove by death the following individuals :—The Rev. S. Lima and Mrs. Lima, with one of their children, were, by an inscrutable Providence, suddenly removed by death, on the 13th of September last; having been buried in the ruins of their house at Cochin, in consequence of the falling in of the roof, early in the morning of that day, during a storm of wind.

Mr. John Weeks, with Mrs. Weeks, left Sierra Leone, on the 13th of April, in consequence of the ill health of Mrs. Weeks; and arrived in London on the 30th of June. The Rev. John Raban also left Sierra Leone on the 27th of June, and arrived at Deal on the 10th of September: he left Gravesend, on his return to Africa, on the 5th of December, and arrived there on the 15th of January last.

The Rev. John F. Müller was obliged to quit his Station at Smyrna on account of ill health; and arrived at Basle, his native place, on the 21st of July last. The Rev. William Krusé and the Rev. Theodore Müller, with their families, left Egypt on the 29th of November, in consequence of domestic sickness and the threatened inroads of plague and cholera, and arrived at Malta on the 15th of January.

The Rev. Peter Fjellstedt, with Mrs Fjellstedt, left Madras, on account of ill health, on the 7th of February ; and reached London on the 17th of May last. The Rev. James B. Morewood, having been obliged to quit his Station on the Nilgherry Hills on account of his debilitated state of health, embarked at Cannanore on the 3d of April, and arrived in London on the 8th of August.

The Rev. Samuel Lambrick, with Mrs. Lambrick, left Cotta on the 4th of January, 1835, under the sanction of the Committee; and arrived at Falmouth on the 9th of May last.

Applegate, with Mrs. Applegate, whose Station had been changed from the New-Zealand to the South-India Mission, embarked at Portsmouth for Madras on the 15th of August. The Rev. John Henry Bernau and Mrs. Bernau arrived at Barbados on the 15th of May last. Mr. John Armstrong and Mrs. Armstrong reached Bartica Point on the 29th of April 1835. The Rev. Henry L. Dixon and Mrs. Dixon embarked at Gravesend on the 22d of October, the Rev. Charles L. F. Haensel on the 23d, and the Rev. William Morse on the 26th of the same month, for Jamaica. Mr. and Mrs. Dixon and Mr. Haensel arrived there on the 9th of December, and Mr. Morse on the 11th of that month. Mr. Samuel Holt and Mrs. Holt, Mr. Edward Newman, Mr. James Paul and Mrs. Paul, Mr. James Pollitt and Mrs. Pollitt, embarked at Gravesend on the 9th of December for the same Mission, and arrived there on the 25th of January. The Rev. Alfred Eckel and the Rev. They re-embarked at London on the 13th of December, and arrived at Barbados on the 25th of January. The Rev. J. F. Sessing and Mrs. Sessing embarked at Gravesend on the 25th of January for Jamaica, and arrived there on the 12th of last March.

ORDINATION OF MISSIONARIES.

Ten of the Society's Candidates have been admitted, by the Bishop of London, to Deacon's Orders, and Seven to Priest's Orders, during the course of the last year. One has also been admitted to Priest's Orders, and two to Deacon's Orders, by the Bishop of Calcutta.

INSTITUTION AT ISLINGTON.

In his Annual Report of the state of the Institution to the Committee of Visitors, the Principal expresses his thankfulness to Almighty God, that he can speak favourably of its internal state.

It pleased God, in February last, to remove, by death, one of the most promising Students, the Rev. Richard Coleman. Of this very painful event the Principal thus speaks, in his Report to the Visitors:—

The sudden death of Mr. Coleman was a very afflicting event. It fell heavily, not only on the cause of Foreign Missions, but likewise on this Seminary, in which he would have continued another twelvemonth, and of which his attainments had made him an ornament, and his virtues an example. The proficiency he displayed at the examination for Holy Orders obtained for him the marked approbation of the Lord Bishop of London, and placed him in the foremost rank of the whole body of candidates. We have therefore to deplore in him a young man of more than common promise, cut off just after he had put on his ministerial armour, and before he had set foot in that sacred field in which we had fondly anticipated for him a long and successful career. It is our consolation, however, to reflect, that the moral and religious were fully as bright as the intellectual features of his character; and that he died in the temper, though providentially withheld from the service, of a Christian Missionary.

During the year, Seventeen Students have been received into the Institution, in addition to the number reported at the last Anniversary. Fifteen Students—Ten Ordained, and Five Catechists—have departed to their respective Stations; one has been removed by death; one is studying at Trinity College, Dublin; and Twenty-four are still resident at the Institution.

NUMBER OF MISSIONARY LABOURERS.

The number of Missionaries sent forth last year was, Eighteen Ordained Missionaries, Nine Catechists and Artisans, and One Female Teacher: fourteen of these being married, the total number of individuals sent out is Forty-two. This number includes Six Missionaries and Two Catechists, who have returned to their Stations, or been appointed to new Stations.

The total number at present engaged in the Society's service, as Ordained Missionaries or Catechists, exclusive of Native Teachers and the Wives of the married Labourers, amounts to One Hundred and Twenty-nine.

MISSIONS.

WEST-AFRICA MISSION.

"FAINT, yet pursuing," is a motto very appropriate to those devoted Servants of the Lord, who are still pressing on, in their self-denying exertions in West Africa.

The population of this Colony is about 10,000: the number, however, who renounce heathenism, and put themselves in the way of obtaining Christian Knowledge, by attending the House of God on the Sabbath-day, is about 3000, including children.

INSTITUTION AT FOURAH BAY.

The Institution has continued, during the year past, under the charge of the Rev. G. A. Kissling. The number, usually

12, has been diminished by the departure of two, who have entered on that course of active service for which it is the design of the Institution to prepare them. Mr. Kissling writes concerning them—

Two Students received, during the quarter, their appointment from the Special Meeting to join the Society's service, and to labour as Assistant Schoolmasters; the one at Kissey, and the other at Wellington. They laid their hands with joy on the work assigned to them; yet the separation from the Seminary, which had become endeared to them by a residence in it of more than three years, caused their hearts to bleed. They are now no longer sheltered by a place of retirement, nor secured from evil by such restraints as they had hitherto been under. May the power of God's grace preserve their souls, and His Spirit bless and fit them to labour in His service here on earth, and to enter, at last, His service above, in uninterrupted joy!

FREETOWN.

The Congregation at Gibraltar Chapel has, during the absence of the Rev. John Raban in this country, been under the charge of the Rev. G. A. Kissling. Concerning the Congregation, and the Sunday School connected with it, he reports as follows:—

It gives us no small gratification to observe the devotion of the Congregation when the Prayers are read, and the attention paid to the preached Word. The conduct of the Sunday Scholars, taking into consideration that nearly all of them are Apprentices, born in a land of darkness and vice, and rescued from slavery not long ago, is encouraging.

The Special Meeting, considering that there was little prospect of good resulting from the Colonial Boys' School, unless it could be more efficiently superintended, and that the Society's funds might be better bestowed elsewhere, than in Freetown, where many of the inhabitants can afford to educate their children and dependants, have determined on closing it with the present quarter. The 227 scholars belonging to the School will, however, not be left unprovided for; the Colonial Government having resolved to take up the school, and carry it on.

RIVER DISTRICT.

Mr. Kissling having had the care of the Society's operations at Freetown and Fourah Bay, has not been able to attend often to the Station of Kissey. Mr. Warburton reports of it—

The attendance on Divine Worship on the Lord's Day is very gratifying; there being an average attendance of 800, including 230 children. This attendance is regular; and the hearers, on the whole, are attentive and serious. Many of the people have Bibles and Prayer Books; which they use, and which help to fix their attention.

Mrs. Warburton has also a Girls' School under her charge.

MOUNTAIN DISTRICT.

From the communications of the Rev. J. F. Schön and the Catechists in this District, the following account is collected, concerning the success of their labours:—

WELLINGTON — Mr. E. Collins, being appointed to re-occupy this Station, relates:—The first day of our commencing the Day School at this Station we received 157 children; and, in a few days, this number increased to 220: the average attendance has been 170. This number, during two months, the most unfavourable in the whole year, may be considered large.

On the 26th of July we proposed commencing a Sunday School for Adults and Apprentices; but so considerable was the anxiety manifested on the occasion, and so great was the number of both sexes and of all ages that flocked for admission, that it quite overwhelmed us.

REGENT—Of this Station, Mr. Schön mentions:—I have baptized thirteen candidates, five men and eight women, all belonging to this parish: all of them had been on trial for several years, and no charge was brought against any of them for misbehaviour. I met them, for the last six months, once a week, and endeavoured to instruct them in the doctrines of our blessed Religion, for which their hearts seemed open. After conversations with each of them separately, I was encouraged to administer the ordinance of Baptism to them, and should not have felt justified in refusing any one of them. And now I can only commend them to God, and to the word of His grace; which is able to build them up, and to give them an inheritance among all them which are sanctified.

GLOUCESTER AND LEICESTER—Mr. Schön further reports:—The Public Services here have been numerously attended throughout the year; about 700 being present on Sunday morning. As far as could be ascertained, there are very few families of which no member forms a part of the Congregation. The Mahomedans are few in number; and though, as may be supposed, they do not themselves come to the House of God, they, notwithstanding, send their children and Apprentices.

BATHURST AND CHARLOTTE — Mr. W. Young writes, concerning these Stations:—A few, it is to be hoped, are sincere in maintaining their profession of Christianity, and feel the vital importance of their relation to the Lord Jesus Christ.—One hundred girls are instructed in needle-work by Mrs. Young, assisted by the wife of our Native Assistant. Mrs. Young reports favourably of their diligence and progress in this branch of useful knowledge.

Your Committee would remark, concerning this Mission, that there has been manifested, of late, an increasing desire after the Means of Grace. Mr. Kissling states—

Never were the Africans more numerous or more loud in their cry for instruction from the Agents of the Church Missionary Society; nor were our labours ever more appreciated than at present. Permit me only to mention, that the people of Kent are solicitous that the Society's operations should be extended unto them—that the inhabitants of Hastings have been urgent in their request to place, at least, a Native Teacher among them, if it should not be in our power to send them a Minister or Catechist, "to teach them the true way of worshipping God"—that the Parishioners of Charlotte have addressed a letter to us, craving the privilege of having an Instructor resident among them—and that, from another direction, I understand, we have to expect a similar application. Some have collected a considerable amount of money for the building of a Place of Worship.

Reference has been made above to the village of Hastings. From a Letter addressed to Mr. Kissling by several of the inhabitants of that village, the following passages are extracted:—

Rev. Sir—We, the inhabitants of Hastings, humbly acquaint the Committee, that we are very sorry that we are now as sheep without a shepherd: we are left desolate: we are wandering from one way to another. If the Committee would take it into consideration to look on us with pity and compassion, as to send us a shepherd to lead us into the way of heaven—for we are ruined by the devil on every side, and have no guide—therefore all of us, with much desire, humbly beg and beseech the Committee, for the sake of God, to grant our request, and not to leave us to ourselves: all of us beg the Committee to grant us a shepherd with a willing mind, who will lead us to the fold.*

MEDITERRANEAN MISSION.

MALTA.

The Rev. C. F. Schlienz has been fully engaged in the editing of religious publications in several languages; and also, of late, in preaching to a congregation of the English, and in conducting a Sunday School. He, moreover, visited the Levant, and collected much important and interesting information concerning Greece, Asia Minor, and Constantinople, during the last year. He is now on a visit to this country. He has been assisted, as formerly, by Mr. P. Brenner, in the superintendence of the general affairs of all the Society's Missions around the Mediterranean; and by Mr. Weiss, in the Printing department. Mrs. Weiss has also made herself very useful in schools.

The operations of the Press at this Central Station have increased during the past year. The issue of Arabic Publications has indeed diminished by one fourth; a circumstance accounted for, by the depressed state of the Egyptian Mission. Meanwhile, the issue of the Greek Publications has increased considerably more than fourfold. The total amount of Publications issued in the year 1835 was 44,715.*

GREECE.

The Rev. F. Hildner, with Mrs. Hildner, continues to be indefatigably and successfully engaged in the superintendence of Greek Schools in this island. Nearly 600 young persons, of both sexes, receive their education from him. His labours are very acceptable to the Greek nation. He is also much occupied in preparing fit and able Schoolmasters and Mistresses for other Stations in Greece.

It had been feared by Mr. Hildner, that his labours would be interrupted by the obtrusion of a system on his Schools, which might compromise their character for Scriptural purity. He has found his fears, however, thus far, to be groundless. In the latest accounts, he states—

> Respecting the Greek Church Catechism, and a Greek Priest teaching it in our Schools, there is not, as yet, any well-founded fear. We go on unimpeded, on Scriptural ground, with our 600 children, as well as ever.

It will be interesting to learn, that our countrymen resorting for commercial purposes to this island have not neglected the important interests of Religion. Mr. Schlienz, in the account of his visit here, remarks—

> Among the strangers who have resorted to Syra, I met with a good number of English, who begin to form quite a little colony here. At the English Church Service, I counted thirty-seven persons. Collections have been made by them toward the building of a Chapel.

ASIA MINOR.

At this Station the Rev. J. A. Jetter continues his labours, and expects shortly to be joined by the Rev. P. Fjellstedt. In the conducting of Greek Schools at Smyrna, Boujah, and Vourlah, and in promoting the same object at Magnesía, and other places, he has been favoured with much success.

An Infants' School has been established at Vourlah. Mr. Jetter reports—

At Vourlah we held the examination of our Schools, which, I can safely affirm, is the first of its kind ever witnessed there. At the examination of the High School of boys and girls, two Turkish Imâms who were present, and who could not even understand Greek, seeing two girls five and a half years old read the Psalter, and answer questions on Sacred History and Geography, exclaimed, "The end of the world is come!" And at the Infants' School, the women shed tears of joy on hearing their children answer so many questions, which themselves knew not, both on Religion and useful subjects.

EGYPT.

The Rev. Messrs. Krusé and Müller have laboured at Caïro during the greater part of the past year. Besides preaching in Arabic, they have attended to the instruction of the Seminary, in which 14 pupils were accustomed every day to receive seven hours' tuition, besides attending to their Morning and Evening Devotions.

Those hopeful labours were, however, arrested by the visitation of the Plague, exhibiting itself in a form more awful than usual. On the effects of this scourge, it is painfully remarked by Mr. Müller—

Before this unhappy catastrophe, there were four different Schools in the quarter in which I live, with 10 or 15 boys each; and now there are only two—the one in my house, and another conducted by a Coptic Priest: so that perhaps one-half of the present rising generation has been quickly snatched from time into eternity.

The consolations needed at such a season of distress and alarm are feelingly alluded to by the Missionaries, in the following expressions:—

Oh, how precious now are the promises of the Bible to us! Distress teaches us to take heed to the testimonies of the Lord. For a considerable time past there have been cut off by this dreadful scourge 1500 daily, at Caïro. The atmosphere has consequently been so much impregnated with the miasma of pestilence, that we are in continual jeopardy of falling victims to its malignant influence.

The Committee regret to state, that, in consequence of these severe interruptions to their usefulness, and under the pressure of domestic affliction, the above-mentioned two Missionaries have for the present quitted Egypt for Malta.

The Rev. J. R. T. Lieder returned once more in safety to Egypt, in the middle of last July. He was in good health, and had resumed his Missionary labours with activity.

ABYSSINIA.

The Rev. Messrs. Gobat and Isenberg, with their families, and with Messrs. Aichinger and Müller, artisans, have succeeded, during the past year, in advancing further into this country. Many delays and hardships were suffered by them; and the health of Mr. Gobat, the Committee regret to say, had greatly suffered; but, by the latest accounts, it was improving. Mr. Isenberg, on his arrival at Adowah, being lodged, at the first, in the house where the Rev. C. Kugler closed his Missionary career, feelingly remarks—

The remembrance of his death filled my mind with serious thoughts and feelings; and I prayed inwardly to the God of all grace, to make me faithful to the end, in that cause which I now take up from our deceased Kugler.

The whole of the party had reached Adowah by the 14th of May last *.

CALCUTTA AND NORTH-INDIA MISSION.

The Corresponding Committee at Calcutta mention, with gratitude, the great interest taken in the Mission by the Lord Bishop, in his examination of candidates for Baptism—in his valuable instructions to the Christians who have been confirmed—and in his watchfulness, care, and advice, on the general business of the Mission.

* For particulars of the Mediterranean Mission, see Church Missionary Record for 1835, pp. 139—150; and 1836, pp. 1—15, 49—68.

CALCUTTA AND ITS ENVIRONS.

The Rev. Messrs. Sandys and Hæberlin prosecute their labours here with unabated vigour and zeal. Mr. Sandys, for the most part, takes charge of the Mission in Calcutta. Mr. Hæberlin directs his attention, more especially, to the surrounding villages. The Rev. J. C. Thompson has charge of the Hindoostanee Congregation.

Mr. Hæberlin remarks, concerning his labours among the villages—

In the way of preaching to the Heathen, I have begun in the villages where there are Schools and Chapels under my charge; and find the people, in general, willing to hear. The only opposition, especially to the south of Calcutta, arises from the natural apathy of mind, and the opposition of the heart to the spirit of the Gospel; and not from any hold which the priesthood has on the people at large.

Concerning the English School at Mirzapore, it is reported—

There are in this school about 200 boys; and, with the exception of Mr. Marshall, at present at the head of it—whose diligence, attention, and kindness to the boys are deserving of the utmost approbation—the whole is carried on by Native Teachers.

It is most gratifying to mark the progress of Education, founded upon right principles. We are very sure that it must break the shackles of that system of idolatry and superstition with which the mind of the Hindoo and Mahomedan is enthralled.

The Press has been removed into Mission Row, and is in active operation. There is every reason to believe that it will fully realize the expectations formed of it. It has been usefully employed in several works for the Mission. The number of Publications printed at it during the past year, and for the most part circulated, was 22,952.

BURDWAN DISTRICT.

In this large and important District, the Rev. Messrs. Deerr, Weitbrecht, Krückeberg, and Linké, and Mr. Alexander, labour as formerly.

Mr. Weitbrecht states concerning his Station at BURDWAN — The Natives in the vicinity of Burdwan are now so fully convinced of the beneficial effects of our schools, that they evince a great desire, everywhere, to have them established for their Children. "In your schools," they say, "our boys become human beings; but without instruction, they grow up like the brutes, without knowledge and understanding." In several instances, the chief men in the villages offered to build a school-house; which is a great step in the scale of liberality among them.

Mr. Krückeberg represents the people as gradually yielding to the influence of the Gospel. He writes concerning his Station at BANCOORAH—The people seem to be rather alarmed that we place our spiritual engines so close in opposition to their heathen fortifications. It is pleasing to hear the different accounts of what people say about our movements. Some are quite confounded, and expect nothing good from caste or idols: others are indifferent, saying, "Well, if it be our fate, let them make us Christians!"

He relates the following singular effect of the spirit of opposition which took place at the Station of KISHNAGHUR — Mr. Alexander, from Culna, was here, and visited —or rather made over to me—the schools. In one of them, situated near the Rajah's palace, addressing the boys and other people assembled there, he spoke much about Satan, and called their gods devils. The people became enraged; and, on the following morning, established an opposition school, close to ours. The most curious part of the transaction was, that our opponents endeavoured to get as many books (the Gospels, Scripture History, &c.) from our school as they could procure: and what for?—to burn them? No; to use them in this very opposition school.

The following is Mr. Alexander's account of the Mission at CULNA—The Native Converts here, young and old, thirty in number, are assembled, as far as practicable, every evening in the week for Catechetical Instruction, which closes with prayer: they are also assembled three days in the week, at three P. M., for the same purpose, and on the Lord's Day twice; and, with one or two exceptions, grace and peace are manifest among them.

GORRUCKPORE.

The Rev. M. Wilkinson having been in England for the benefit of his health, the Mission has been under the charge of the Rev. R. V. Reynolds, who was admitted to Priest's Orders on Trinity Sunday. The want of the regular ordinances had been much felt at the Station. Mr. Moore, the Catechist, was admitted to the office of Deacon at the same time.

BENARES.

The Missionaries at this Station, the Rev. Messrs. Smith, Knorpp, and Leupolt, with Mr. Steward, have abundant opportunities of publicly preaching, and also of conducting schools, as far as their strength permits. Mr. Knorpp remarks—

The Mahomedans exhibit a great spirit of inquiry, and numbers of them are searching the Scriptures with the greatest attention. And though their object is to establish from them the Mission of their Prophet, yet may we not hope, that, while pondering over the Sacred Volume, their eyes will be opened, and that they will be turned from darkness to light, and from the power of Satan unto God? It is pleasing to see them walking in the streets with the Testament in their hands: and that they should ask us, in that public manner, the meaning of passages in it, must, I think, portend good.

Of the state of Christian Education under the Missionaries, it is reported—

We have in our schools, male and female, upward of 600 children.

The boys of the Hinduwee class are reading the first chapter of Isaiah, and of the Gospel of St. Luke, besides committing to memory a Catechism, &c. They had previously read St. Matthew; and finding so many references to Isaiah, they asked permission "to read the Book of that Prophet, who knew so much of Jesus Christ." From questions they often put to me, I see they pay a great deal of attention to what they have read.

CHUNAR.

The Rev. William Bowley, describing his Missionary visits to places around this Station, relates—

During the rains, we have embraced various opportunities of reading, and addressing the people of several villages; but have generally met with discouragements. At Mirzapore, twenty-two miles above Chunar, where I have repeatedly been, we have met with encouragement. I have also had a useful time at Jaunpore, where I spent twelve days; and, though I met with much opposition, yet it was encouraging to have direct Missionary work, in exposing Mahomedanism, and unfolding the scheme of Gospel salvation. The most encouraging Missionary excursion we had, was to and from the annual Dudree Fair, in the villages situated on both banks of the Gunga. In these villages we met with little enmity or opposition: on the contrary, people who heard us the year before paid great respect and attention to the Word, and gladly accepted of single Gospels and Tracts in Hinduwee: also, at the Fair, we were greatly encouraged to persevere in this sort of work; and good will, in God's own time, ensue.

ALLAHABAD.

At this Station David Batavia has been occupied in teaching Native Youths, and explaining the Bible to the Natives. He thus describes the opposition of the Brahmins, on occasion of his attending an Annual Bathing, which lasted thirty-five days.

The Brahmins, who perform ceremonies on the river-side, get their livelihood by imposing on the ignorant Hindoos. When they see the people crowding to hear, they endeavour to get them away from us. Sometimes, when they see our books in the hands of any Hindoo, they make him throw them into the river, or snatch them from his hands by force, and tear them to pieces. They wish to oppose the Word of our Blessed Master; but we see idolatry daily decreasing, and the Gospel spreading abroad all over Hindostan.

Your Committee close their Report of this Mission with a remark of the Corresponding Committee at Calcutta, on a topic of much promise. They represent, as one of the signs of the times, the great anxiety of the Natives to obtain copies of the Scriptures. "Give us," is their appeal, "give us The Book itself: we want to read the account of your Religion from your Shasters." This feeling is more general than it has ever been before; and the Missionaries are sure that the books given are diligently used, from the accounts which the Natives are able to give on what they profess to have read.*

MADRAS AND SOUTH-INDIA MISSION.

MADRAS.

During the early part of last year, the Secretary to the Corresponding Committee at Madras, the Rev. John Tucker, performed a visit to nearly all the Stations connected with this Mission. His reports on Allepie, Cochin, and Cottayam, are replete with interesting and valuable information, which will tend much to aid the Parent Committee in their future deliberations.

The Rev. C. Blackman has also laboured at the Station of Madras; but he, and also the Rev. W. J. Woodcock, have been obliged to spend much time at the Nilgherry Hills, for the recovery of health.

The Rev. E. Dent, who has, during part of the past year, been stationed at Madras, thus reports concerning his method of preaching in the streets of the city.

Commenced street-preaching at five P.M., and was glad to find that it attracted a great crowd, and that the people were attentive to what I said. Audedasen, the Catechist, read, with an audible voice, Luke xix.; and when the people had collected, I mounted an eminence, and expounded to them the former part of the chapter, about Zaccheus. I pointed out the nature of true repentance, and its effects, and showed the way of salvation. One friend being present, told me, that if I spoke to them about the Pharisee and Publican, it would be more applicable to their case. I then desired the Catechist to read the Parable, and I proceeded to explain it to the people. While proceeding to show that there was no merit whatever in the very best of human performances, and that no man could yield sinless obedience to the command of God, so as to save himself, one among the crowd said, "We are desirous to hear how a man is to be saved: tell us that, if you please." This gave me ample scope to discourse upon the doctrines of Salvation and Atonement, as revealed in the Gospel, to direct them to the Lord as the only Saviour of sinners, and to exhort them to believe in Him for the redemption of their souls.

MAYAVERAM.

The Rev. Bernhard Schmid has been labouring at this Station during the past year, though under much bodily weakness, arising from an uninterrupted residence of nineteen years in India. He thus describes the influence of Caste on the Native mind, and the slow steps by which it is retiring.

Narayenen, whom I remarked as a hopeful character when he was a lad, and who attended my instructions to the schoolmasters at Satankoollam in August 1829, was subsequently baptized. He lately passed through Mayaveram. He is of high caste. I knew several of his relations in Tinnevelly: they are greatly respected there: but in the Prayer Meeting this morning he sat as close as possible to Anthony, who is of the Paller Caste, which is a very low one; but he is a truly Christian Brother. I really felt brotherly love toward him; and I prayed for him, in my heart, that the Lord might keep him in this state of mind, and cause him to grow in all other graces. At the same time, I felt great pain that the other Christians present showed so little of this evangelical spirit.

Mr. Schmid has subsequently been obliged, by ill health, to return to the Nilgherry Hills.

TINNEVELLY.

It is with deep grief, that, on the present occasion, the Committee turn to the Tinnevelly Mission. The Members were informed, in the Church Missionary Record for November last (p. 263), that the Committee had found themselves under the necessity of dissolving their long-existing connexion with the Rev. C. T. E. Rhenius. To detail the circumstances connected with this painful event would occupy too much of the time of the Meeting. As, moreover, events have subsequently arisen which are not yet brought to an issue, such a detail would at present be premature. The letter, however, of the Committee to the Rev. J. Tucker, explaining the grounds of their decision in reference to Mr. Rhenius, will be printed in the Appendix to this Report.* In the mean time, the Committee record here the Resolution which was adopted by them on this subject, Feb. 3, 1835:—

That, adverting to the long period during which the Rev. C. T. E. Rhenius has been connected with the Society—to the strong sense which the Committee entertain of his piety, zeal, devotedness, and unwearied labours—and to the large measure of the Divine Blessing with which those labours have been honoured and prospered—the Committee learn, with the deepest regret and distress, the publication, in India, by Mr. Rhenius, of his Tract entitled "A Review," &c., impugning, as it does, the Government, Ritual, Formularies, and Discipline of that Church with which he stood connected as a Missionary of this Society; and that, afflicting as it is to them to dissolve their connexion with one whom, on many grounds, they highly honour and esteem, yet they feel bound, in consistency, as attached Members of the Church of England, to take this very painful step, and to declare that the Missionary relation which has hitherto subsisted between the Society and Mr. Rhenius is at an end.

The Committee, by another Resolution, requested the Rev. J. Tucker to proceed to Tinnevelly immediately on their decision reaching Madras, in order to take the necessary steps for carrying it into effect. This Mr. Tucker did accordingly; and arrived at Tinnevelly, in discharge of the painful duty that had been assigned to him, at the latter end of May last. The result was, that Mr. Rhenius submitted to the decision of the Committee, and quitted Tinnevelly on the 18th of June; having, previously to his departure, transferred all the property, establishments, and concerns of the Mission to Mr. Tucker. The Rev. Messrs. Schaffter, Müller, and Lechler, Mr. Rhenius's coadjutors in the Mission, quitted it along with him, to the surprise and regret of the Committee, as there was previously no subject in discussion with them to call for their taking such a step. These four Brethren went, in the first instance, to Madras, where they arrived about the end of June. They subsequently proceeded to Arcot, a district situated about seventy miles westward of Madras, to undertake a Mission at that place, and commenced their labours there in August.

About this period, representations appear to have been addressed to Mr. Rhenius by some of the Catechists in Tinnevelly, at the instigation of David, who had been Head Catechist under Mr. Rhenius, to induce him to return thither. To this course David seems to have been incited in consequence of his misconduct in administering the pecuniary affairs of the Mission, which had been entrusted to him by Mr. Rhenius, having been detected. To his influence Mr. Rhenius unhappily yielded; and returned to Tinnevelly in October, to examine, as he professed, the state of the Mission. After some communication with David and the disaffected Catechists, he assumed the charge of the Mission. That this step was wholly uncalled for, from any thing in the actual state of the Mission, the full communications which have reached the Committee abundantly prove. For the period of between three and four months, during which Mr. Rhenius was absent from the Mission, the Missionaries in charge of it, the Rev. Messrs. Pettitt, Devasagayam, and Dent—Mr. Tucker also being present a considerable part of the time—found much acceptance with the people; and the whole Mission was rapidly resuming a state of organization and peace. So much, indeed, was this the case, that in the quarter ending Sept. 30, within about three months after the departure of Mr. Rhenius, 250 families, consisting of about 750 souls, had renounced Heathenism, and placed themselves under Christian Instruction, by joining the congregations.

The consequence of the step taken by Mr. Rhenius was, as was to be expected, disorder and strife. While, therefore, the Committee would speak of Mr. Rhenius with that tenderness and consideration which they feel for one whom they have been so long accustomed to respect and honour, they are constrained to pronounce his conduct, in his return to Tinnevelly, to be a grievous breach of Christian charity and peace. In a Letter, dated November 21, 1835, Mr. Tucker, who had proceeded a second time to Tinnevelly, in consequence of Mr. Rhenius's proceedings, emphatically remarks—"1st, That there was no confusion in the Mission, except what Mr. Rhenius had caused; and 2dly, That now all is confusion." So strongly did the Madras Committee feel the wrongfulness of the course pursued by Mr. Rhenius, that, on the 7th of November, they adopted a series of Resolutions on the subject, in the first of which they thus express themselves:—

That the Corresponding Committee deem it their duty, in the first place, to declare their decided conviction, that in entering, in the manner he has done, upon this inquiry, and in thus hastily determining to intrude upon the Society's Mission, Mr. Rhenius has been unhappily misled by wicked and designing men. They declare his assertions, respecting the disturbed state of the Mission, to be unfounded; and unhesitatingly assert, from the information in their possession, that, with the exception of a very few cases, where dissatisfaction and disunion had been incited by Mr. Rhenius's own proceedings, or those of his native agents, the Tinnevelly Mission was, at the period of his departure from Arcot, quiet and peaceful. They strongly, therefore, protest againt his unjustifiable interference with their Mission, contrary to the established usage among Missions; and declare his proceedings to be, in their judgment, inconsistent with the character of a Christian Missionary, and calculated to injure the cause of Christ.

The Madras Committee further deemed it to be their duty to use their best exertions to retain the Mission in connexion with the Society; convinced, they state, "that the cause of the Church Missionary Society in Tinnevelly is not the cause of the Church of England only, but of truth and righteousness." They also felt themselves called upon to print, for circulation among the friends of the Society in India, a Statement explaining the grounds on which they had formed their judgment of the character of Mr. Rhenius's recent proceedings. This statement will also be inserted in the Appendix*.

Such is the present afflicted state of that Mission, which the Members of the Society have long been accustomed to look at with feelings of holy hope and joy;—now, alas! through the too successful machinations of the Enemy, a scene of grief and humiliation. While, however, the Committee have discharged the painful duty of thus unfolding the present circumstances of the Tinnevelly Mission, they are not without hope, that the trial, bitter indeed though it be, will, under the wise and gracious administration of the Great Head of the Church, issue in its purification and ultimate enlargement. In the mean time, the Committee earnestly commend this Mission to the sympathy and prayers of their Christian friends, that its divisions may be healed, and peace restored.

NILGHERRY HILLS.

Upon a careful review of the amount of advantages, compared with the difficulties and expenditure, of this Station, the Committee have, during the past year, come to the resolution to relinquish their Establishment at the Nilgherry Hills.

COTTAYAM.

The arrival of the Rev. B. Bailey, with Mrs. Bailey, at this Station, was reported last year. They have been again joined, during the present year, by the Rev. H. Baker and Mrs. Baker. The Rev. J. Peet has also continued his labours here; while Mr. Woodcock, in consequence of ill health and other circumstances, has withdrawn.

The duties of the Mission and of the Syrian College have been regularly continued by the Missionaries; but their attention has of late been more closely drawn to the state of Christianity in the Syrian Church itself. A visit paid by the Lord Bishop of Calcutta to the Metran gave his Lordship an opportunity of making many friendly inquiries and suggestions on this head. The results, however, which may be expected to be of an important nature, are not yet sufficiently developed, for the Committee to make any detailed report upon the subject.

ALLEPPIE.

The Rev. Thomas Norton continues at this Station, labouring with considerable effect: it is to be remembered, that he is alone, and unaided by any other Missionary Brother on the spot. At the close of the year 1834 he thus reviews the result of his exertions during the twelvemonth preceding:—

* Appendix II.

During the year, I have been enabled to revise the Psalms, Proverbs, Ecclesiastes, Canticles, and Isaiah; to translate and revise Jeremiah, and Lamentations: and now I am going on with Ezekiel. I have also prepared four Tracts for the Press, and several Handbills. It has been a fruitful year in the produce of the Press; as from it have issued nearly 30,000 Tracts, 55,000 Handbills, 300 Hymn-books, and 1500 copies of the Psalms. While, on the review of this, I would raise my Ebenezer for having been helped thus far, I would also humbly and earnestly solicit the influence of the Holy Spirit to give effect to these humble efforts.

COCHIN.

At this Station the Rev. S. Ridsdale and Mrs. Ridsdale continue to labour diligently, and they had been assisted by Mr. S. Lima and Mrs. Lima: but the Committee have the painful duty of stating the sudden removal of Mr. and Mrs. Lima, by death, in consequence of their being buried under the ruins of their house, which fell on the night of the 13th September 1835. Mr. Lima, as a faithful and valuable coadjutor of Mr. Ridsdale, is deeply lamented by him.

Your Committee will only add to this Report of their South-India Mission, that, on the arrival of the Lord Bishop of Madras in his Diocese, his Lordship very kindly acceded to the request of the Corresponding Committee to become the Patron of the Society for that Presidency. Bishop Corrie had also engaged to assist Mr. Tucker in his Ministerial duties at Black Town, during his unavoidable absence at Tinnevelly: and further, the Bishop had intimated his readiness, should the case so require, himself personally to repair to Tinnevelly, in the hope of composing the present disorders, and promoting the cause of truth, and peace, and love.*

BOMBAY AND WESTERN-INDIA MISSION.

The Rev. Messrs. Farrar and Dixon labour, as hitherto, at Nassuck. An important work has been finished, to which the Corresponding Committee thus advert:—

It is with great satisfaction that your Committee are enabled to state that the Liturgy has been translated, by the Rev. J. Dixon, into Mahratta.

And they add—

All the Members of the Mission have hitherto been labouring at Nassuck, in the very heart of a dense and heathen population. Such labours as theirs will, surely, ultimately be blessed, in the Lord's good time.

Mrs. Farrar, who is much engaged in the work of Female Education, relates the following circumstance, as indicating the influence obtained on the minds of the rising generation:—

A circumstance which I have noticed with satisfaction is, that the girls make known to their relations at home what is going forward in the school. They repeat to their friends the Hymns, Catechisms, Commandments, and read some of their school-books to them.—I recollect, also, when explaining the Lord's Prayer for the first time, I asked them what they would do if any one vexed or injured them. Some said they would give blows: all seemed fully determined to repay in kind. A few Sabbaths ago I again asked the same question; when a full chorus of little voices exclaimed, "We must forgive."*

CEYLON MISSION.

COTTA.

The Rev. Samuel Lambrick having returned to England, the Rev. J. Bailey is engaged at this Station, besides his ministerial and other duties, in the general superintendence of the affairs of the Mission; while the Rev. J. Selkirk is principally occupied with the Institution. Of the departure of Mr. Lambrick from a Mission in which he had successfully laboured seventeen years, it is feelingly remarked by Mr. Selkirk—

I need hardly say how much we all feel the departure of our dear Mr. Lambrick, with whom I have lived on terms of the greatest cordiality and affection between eight and nine years. We have laboured together, as Brother Missionaries, in harmony; and have often united our prayers to the God of Missions to bless our labours to the conversion of souls.

* Further accounts of this Mission may be seen in the Church Missionary Record for 1836, pp. 37—41.

The Bishop of Calcutta, in his visitation of Ceylon, having examined the State of the Institution, Mr. Selkirk reports—

His Lordship, assisted by the Rev. J. Bateman, spent nearly two hours in examining the Institution Boys in the Bible, in Geography, Trigonometry, Geometry, Latin, the Greek Testament, and the Hebrew Bible. The Bishop said, that this was the first time that he had heard Hebrew read by the Natives of India. He exhorted them all to persevere in their studies with diligence and humility.

The Press of the Society at Cotta continues in operation: the following is the account rendered by Mr. W. Ridsdale, of the labours in this department.

The works going through the press are, the Singhalese Scriptures; Singhalese Grammar; Tyro's Repertory; Colombo Religious and Theological Magazine; Catalogue of Books in Colombo Library; Catechism on Confirmation; Church Missionary's Answer to a Buddhist's Objections, &c.

KANDY.

The Rev. T. Browning has been reinforced at this station by the arrival of the Rev. W. Oakley. He had been mercifully enabled thus to continue his labours; and the sphere of their operations appears likely to be increased. Mr. Browning reports the following circumstance, as showing the spiritual benefit attending the rite of Confirmation:—

A boy belonging to the Kategalle School, who was confirmed by the Bishop, went to visit some relations living at a village near Colombo. While there, the people of the village were celebrating some ceremonies connected with devil-worship, and the boy was invited by his grandmother to go and see the performance. He said to her, "I am a Christian: I have nothing to do with these things: I cannot go to see them. The Bishop told me, when I was confirmed, that I must have nothing to do with idolatry. He asked us all if we would give up devil-worship, and all heathenish ceremonies. I promised I would." The grandmother induced the boy just to go out into the street, and she privately sent for the devil's priest to come and dance there; but as soon as the boy saw him commence his performance, he ran into the house, and would not witness such heathenish practices.

BADDAGAME.

At this Station, the Rev. Messrs. Trimnell and Faught continue to labour. They report as follows:—

We can have no reasonable doubt that the Lord, in some degree, acknowledges and blesses our labours; for our Congregations, both at Church and at the several Schoolhouses, are more attentive to the preaching of the Word: and considerable is the knowledge of the Gospel plan of Salvation which numbers of both sexes possess; but yet, alas! they have not turned from idols to serve the living and true God.

The Schoolmasters in the several schools conduct themselves with great propriety. We hope well of some of them. Their improvement in Biblical knowledge is very respectable: and at this we rejoice, as the improvement of the children greatly depends on the knowledge of the Masters. They attend, as usual, at the Rev. G. S. Faught's on Saturdays, and are engaged as stated in last year's Report.

NELLORE.

The Rev. Messrs. Knight and Adley observe, concerning this Station—

Our Congregational duties have varied but little since the last Report. The usual Services in Tamul and English have been continued. The Tamul Service in the jail has been held on each alternate Lord's Day only; and the English exposition in the Jaffna Pettah has, for some months, been continued weekly, with some encouraging hopes of its being rendered useful.

The Printing Press at Nellore has, by the unanimous consent of the Missionaries in Ceylon, been given up; and Mr. Knight expects to be more fully engaged than hitherto in the work of translating.*

AUSTRALASIA MISSION.

NEW HOLLAND.

In this arduous Mission, to the Aborigines of New Holland, the Rev. Messrs. Watson and Handt have continued to labour during the past year. In their Official Report to Government, it is stated—

The Missionaries have itinerated, on several occasions, to the distance of from forty to seventy miles in each direction. On these journeys, meeting with Natives who had seen them at Wellington Valley, the most friendly disposition has been invariably manifested by the Natives. They have also given sufficient evidence, that they had not forgotten the daily custom at the Mission House of offering prayer and praise to the Great God and Saviour of mankind, by readily kneeling down and uniting with their Christian Teacher in this sacred duty.

* For further particulars concerning this Mission, see Church Missionary Record for 1835, pp. 122—125, 157—167; and 1836, pp. 83—96.

Even in this wilderness, the House of the Lord is beginning to be built. Mr. Watson, under date of March 2, 1834, reports—

I preached this morning, for the first time, in the building which I have altered and fitted up as a Church: it is commodious and convenient; having a pulpit, reading-desk, a table for an altar, and altar-rails. May the time speedily come, when it shall be filled by Natives, anxiously listening to the message of mercy in their own language!

And he adds, describing the scenes of domestic worship, to which it is the constant endeavour of the Missionaries to train these wandering and degraded people—

I was much pleased this evening with the distinct and solemn manner in which the Natives repeated their prayers; and particularly with two old men—one of whom has been notoriously wicked—who never before attempted to pray. I can scarcely help believing that the Lord is doing something for us.

One measure, of the greatest moment in every country, whether civilized or savage, has been happily commenced in this Mission. The Committee advert to the translation of the Scriptures into the Native tongue. In this, both Mr. Watson and Mr. Handt are diligently engaged. The following statements are by Mr. Watson:—

Dec. 25, 1834—Several Natives came up to-day, some from a distance of 100 miles: they came to Church with the others. After dinner, I read over some of my translation of the Scriptures. So interested did they appear, that they came and sat down with me, one after another, and paid the greatest attention: they said they understood what I read. When I gave over reading, some of them said, "Book for black fellows! Book for black fellows!"

The progress made in this department is thus reported—

A Vocabulary of words and sentences — about 4000; the Lord's Prayer and Apostles' Creed, translated. Translated, also, the three first chapters of Genesis, the Ten Commandments, and about eight chapters of the Gospel of St. Matthew.

A second Report on the state and progress of the Mission was addressed by the Missionaries to His Excellency the Governor of New South-Wales, at the close of 1834, which is printed in the Appendix*.

NEW ZEALAND.

Your Committee next proceed, with mingled feelings of joy and gratitude, anxiety and hope, to report on the state of the New-Zealand Mission. Hitherto, it may be said, The Lord hath helped us; and the Committee trust that He will continue to bless yet more largely all His faithful Labourers in this field.

* Appendix III.

Tepuna.

The senior Missionary Labourer, Mr. King, continues with his family at this, the first-founded Station of the Society. He states concerning it—

About 200 Natives are living in the neighbourhood of this Station; and the Natives along the northern coast, for about twenty miles, have been visited from this Station.

Kerikeri.

The native population, and likewise the supply of Missionary Labourers, have both suffered considerable variations at this Station. The following is the general view of their secular and religious employments:—

The chief of Mr. Kemp's time has been taken up in the superintendence of the new Store: he has also had charge of the Settlement stores.

Mr. Baker has had charge of the Native Boys' School: he has also spent a portion of his time in attention to horticulture, and has trained a considerable number of fruit-trees.

The Native Girls' School has been principally conducted by Mrs. Kemp, assisted by Mrs. Baker, when her health would permit. Mrs. Shepherd has devoted the afternoon of each day to the English Infant Children.

Paihia.

The Rev. Messrs. H. and W. Williams, and Brown, and some of the Catechists, have been called forth on exploratory tours, both around this Station and to distant parts of the island, with a view to the fixing of new Stations, since formed. They report—

In mercy have we been preserved, with little intermission of health; and have been permitted to prosecute our work in the name of the Lord, in the midst of much quietness on every side.

Waimate.

The following particulars will describe the progress of the Mission at this Station:—

An examination was held of our Schools at the Waimate; at which time many Natives from the distant residences, and who have formed schools in their villages, were present, and passed a very respectable examination in the Catechisms, and some of them in reading the Scriptures. The Infant School, under the conduct of Mrs. Hamlin, gave very general satisfaction. From 800 to 1000 Natives were present; and about 500 of them passed an examination.

Mr. Hamlin states—

Our Chapel on Sundays is crowded to excess; and I think, if it were twice as large, it would be filled. What an encouraging sight, to behold so many flocking to the House of God!

The Committee would here state, that there is a prospect that the desires of the Missionaries to have a large building for Public Worship will be accomplished, the Contributions to the Church at Waimate having risen, during the past year, to the sum of £1111. By the latest intelligence from New Zealand, the Committee also learn, that while the Rev. W. Yate has been travelling throughout this country, stirring up the hearts of our countrymen to this work, God has not been unmindful of the Station thus temporarily deprived of his personal services. The number of the Communicants at the Waimate has been doubled.

The Committee have also the satisfaction to state, that the proceedings of the New-Zealand Mission have attracted attention in the highest quarter in this country; His Majesty having been pleased to honour the Rev. W. Yate with a long interview, during which the opportunity was afforded of fully developing the state of the Society's labours in this the remotest part of the globe. At the close of the interview, His Majesty was pleased to desire that a copy of the Society's Report might be forwarded to him, through his Private Secretary; with which the Committee have had the satisfaction of complying. His Majesty also requested Mr. Yate to write to him from time to time, through the same channel, concerning the progress of his Missionary labours in New Zealand.

Of this newly-formed Station, Messrs. Puckey and Matthews report:—

On our arrival, we were rejoiced to find that the Natives, with one heart and voice, said: "Make haste, and take up your abode among us." We took full possession of the Settlement on the 14th of March 1834; when Mrs. Matthews arrived, with Messrs. H. Williams and Davis. On Monday the 18th, the land was paid for, and witnessed by the above persons. The quantity of land purchased for the Society and attached to this Station is upward of 1000 acres, 600 of which is fine alluvial soil.—We have built a rush Chapel, in which are regularly performed Morning and Evening Services. We have established a Morning School for males, our number of men and boys being 40. A Girls' School is also conducted by Mrs. Matthews and Mrs. Puckey, the daily attendance at which is 16.

Puriri.

At this Station, which has been formed to the Southward, three Catechists are placed. It is stated by them, as the first-fruits of the undertaking—

We are, I trust, in a sphere of much usefulness. Our Schools are going on in a manner which affords us much encouragement: we have regularly the Adult, Boys', and Girls' School every day in the week: the Infant School also is well attended: the mothers, and sometimes even the grandmothers, attend, to be taught with the infants.

An object of great importance has at length been attained, in the establishment of a Printing Press in New Zealand.

Mr. W. R. Wade, under whose charge it was sent out, writes—

The arrival of the Press is, as we expected, hailed by our friends here as a memorable event for New Zealand; and as for the Natives, those who assisted in bringing it ashore shouted and danced on the sand, when told it was "Ta pukapuka" (a book-press, or a book-making machine). There is an extraordinary demand for books all around.

That a genuine work of grace is advancing in this island continues to be apparent, from the simple expressions often used by the Natives, when describing their religious feelings. Mr. G. Clarke, in relating his conversations with several of them, writes as follows:—

One said, his feet had a long time dragged his heart to Church; but he was not satisfied, because the heart did not agree with the feet in going to the House of God: how was he to act, to make them agree? I directed him to look, by earnest prayer, to Him who alone can make our duties our delight, and give us to feel His service perfect freedom. Another said, "I have no rest day nor night for the wickedness of my heart: it is always contending for evil. Until you came and made known among us the Word of God, we had nothing of this sort: now, one heart is continually teazing the other to do wrong, and the other wishes to do right; and between them both, I have no rest." He said he wished to do right, but he did not understand all this quarrelling. I told him, wherever a work of grace was begun, there was more or less of this spirit lusting against the flesh, and the flesh against the spirit; but if he sought strength, it would be given him as he needed it; and, in the end, final victory.

Mr. Clarke also relates—

We were called the other day to witness the power of the Gospel in dispelling the fear of death in one of our Christian Natives, who was naturally a weak and timid woman, shrinking, as it were, from that king of terrors, Death. But in her last affliction we observed a great difference in this respect, which we remarked to her. She said, "Jesus has made this difference." She was once greatly afraid of dying; but since she had known Him, she was not only not afraid to die, but was waiting with desire for her great change. A few minutes before she died, she addressed, in an audible voice, the Natives around her, but more especially her husband, who is a regular attendant on the Means of Grace, entreating them to lose no time, but immediately to flee to Jesus for salvation; and then, in a fainter but still audible manner, said, "Farewell, wicked world! farewell sin and sorrow! for ever farewell, all of you!"—and expired in the arms of her husband, without a struggle or a groan.

Mr. R. Davis has given the following relation of a scene eminently calculated to encourage every Christian Labourer:—

After Service, I was asked to go and visit a sick man, who was lying in a house near at hand. I went; and found him lying in a verandah, with a dirty garment over him as a covering, and a dirty mat under him, rolled up as a pillow, on which he rested his dying head. He was an old man: his beard was grey: he was fully tattooed. His countenance had been remarkably fine, but it was now being fixed in death. He tried to speak, but his pale-blue lips refused to perform their office: he tried again; and, after a weak hollow cough or two, he at length succeeded. As his power of speech returned, his countenance brightened up: he raised his dying arm, and, letting it fall upon his breast, exclaimed: "My mind is fixed upon Christ, as my Saviour."—"How long have you been seeking Christ?" "From the first," he replied; "Christ is in my heart, and my soul is joyful." I counselled him to keep a firm hold of Christ, and to beware of the Tempter. He replied: "I have no fear: Christ is with me." After prayer, he told me how much he blessed God for sending His Messengers to him with the Message of Salvation.

The Members and Friends of the Society will be fully prepared, after these encouraging statements, to learn that the Committee have, during the past year, greatly reinforced this Mission. A large party sailed with the Rev. W. Yate, in February last.—The Committee cannot part from the notice of this Mission, without quoting the noble and truly national remark made by a Native Chief of one of the Tribes, on the cheering subject of the increase of the Missionary band. He observed to his people: "Now that the Missionaries are coming, we shall, for the first time, become a people. Other Europeans stay for a time only; but if these people come, they will continue with us."

The Committee add their hearty prayer—May the Missionaries advance further and further in New Zealand! May they continue there, growing in grace, established in peace, and receiving from on high the promise of the God of Abraham, I will make of thee a great nation; and I will bless thee, and thou shalt be a blessing! *

WEST-INDIES' MISSION.

Your Committee report, with sincere thankfulness to God, that their wishes and plans are beginning to take effect in this once deeply-oppressed portion of the globe.

For the purpose of maintaining the increased number of Labourers in this Mission, the Committee have, besides the opening of a separate West-Indies' Fund, made application to His Majesty's Government for a portion of the Grant voted by Parliament for the erection of Schoolhouses in the West Indies. The sum of £2500 has been received on this account; laying the Committee under the obligation of meeting this Grant with the sum of £1250 from the Society's Funds.

From the communications of the Labourers in this field, your Committee will select a few brief notices, indicative of the zeal with which the people seek for Christian Instruction, and the beneficial effects attending it.

Jamaica.

Mr. D. Seddon, a Catechist at Amity Hall, in the Parish of St. Thomas in the East, reports—

On the 3d day of my School's history, in the beginning of July, the number of scholars—or rather of wild and barbarous children—for, excepting two or three, they were literally unable to tell the right hand from the left—was 40; on the 13th, they amounted to 60; and by the 17th of the same month, to 70. These have increased to 118, which is the number at present; Sept. 21.

It was some time before I could get the first groupe of children to form any idea of "Stand up"—"Stand straight"—"Look to me;"—all these, and many others, were unheard-of words to them. Some at length stood, others lounged, others eyed their neighbours; but scarcely any would look at me. They would now and then cast a glance, which might give to a person, ignorant of the occasion, reason to think that many were under suspicion that they were in rather dangerous society. After this had continued for some time, every fear was dissipated; and one loud roar of laughter at my unaccountable movements, which they soon learned to imitate in some measure, brought back their absent minds, restoring confidence, and producing no small delight. By degrees, some idea of what I wished to make them understand was formed by a few; whose success and expertness, joined with expressions of my approbation of their attention, inspired others with a spirit of emulation and imitative ardour.

Concerning the good produced among the Young under his charge, he also relates the following circumstances:—

C. Dunn, a good boy, and one of the most diligent in my school, on account of the morning being rainy, and threatening his detention from school, took merely a little hot water (their usual breakfast-beverage), and was here, with no more breakfast than that, an hour before school-time. I asked him his reason for not taking his usual breakfast; on which, thinking me angry with him, he answered, "I should have been too late, Sir."

And again—I am permitted, often, to witness how pleasing an effect a small passage of God's Word produces on the minds of the very youngest of my scholars. For instance, a little girl, between three and four years of age, being provoked by another, was about to satisfy her anger by throwing a stone at the offender; but suddenly she checked herself thus—"If Schoolmassa had not told me St. John says, Little children, love one another, I would have thrown this stone at you." Again, on one occasion, having to punish a child for theft, I asked, "Why do I punish this child?" The answer from several was, "Thou shalt beat him with the rod, and save his soul from going down to hell."

Berbice.

The Rev. J. H. Bernau, stationed in Berbice, relates that much benefit has attended his labours in the Ministry, and in Schools. He reports—

Oct. 3, 1835—I am happy to observe that the Negroes on this coast are going on very quietly. No punishment of any importance has been inflicted, since the time of my being here.

Dec. 27—Preached to-day at Mary's Hope; and was glad to hear that Christmas-day had passed very quietly. The Manager remarked, in the presence of the Proprietor, that he believed this was owing solely to religious instruction.

Demerara.

The Mission at Bartica is gradually advancing. Mr. Youd, writing from his Station, where he is constantly labouring among the Wild Indians, gives the following description of the interest felt by them in Public Worship:—

July 26, 1835: Lord's Day—Opened our new Chapel in the Ciune, where my former Assistant is now stationed among the Carribees: we opened with a Carabeese hymn; then prayer: after which I read a short composition in Carabeese; and then addressed them through Interpreters: we ended with singing and prayer. I was delighted to hear one call out, "Come, sing! this is in our own language*."

NORTH-WEST-AMERICA MISSION.

From a Report made to the Hon. the Hudson's Bay Company by the Rev. Messrs. Jones and Cockran, during the past year, it appears that, during the fourteen years that this Mission has existed, great advances have been made, in the building of Churches, the assembling of Congregations, and the establishment of Schools.

The following remarks by Mr. Cockran will give a very accurate idea of the character of Missionary labours in this region. He relates:—

May 31, 1835 — Preached, in the morning, at the Rapids, to a large and attentive audience. When I say "large," I mean for this part of the world; for we never see a concourse of people, except at Church. In England, I have often expressed with astonishment, "What! so many in the market, and so few in Church?" Here it is the reverse;—on week-days, you may travel for miles, and not see a human face; but on Sundays, when you draw near the Church at the hour of prayer, the track is covered with old, and young, and middle-aged, pressing forward to the House of God to pay the weekly tribute of praise to the Author of their being. When you enter Church, and glance at a Congregation waiting to join in singing the praises of God, you say, with astonishment, This is the Lord's doing: it is marvellous in our eyes!*

CHINA MISSION.

With a deep sense of the importance and responsibility of the undertaking, the Committee announce to the Members of the Society, that they have, during the past year, contemplated the commencement, by the help of God, of a Mission to China.

* Particulars concerning the progress of the North-West-America Mission may be found in the Church Missionary Record for 1836, pp. 15—20.

The first step taken by the Committee, was the opening of a correspondence with the Rev. Dr. Morrison and the Rev. C. Gutzlaff, with a view to obtain such information as might assist the Committee in forming their plans. Previously to the arrival of the Society's Letters, Dr. Morrison had been called to his eternal rest; but from Mr. Gutzlaff the Committee have received an encouraging and satisfactory reply. They have engaged the services of Mr. E. B. Squire for this Mission; and it is intended that he should proceed toward China next month. His first objects will be, to acquire the language, to distribute the Scriptures and Tracts; and more especially to explore the coasts of China, if practicable, and visit the neighbouring countries, in furtherance of the designs of the Mission.

The Committee, beholding in this, the Tenth Mission undertaken by the Society, a sphere of almost boundless labour, would earnestly entreat the prayers of their friends and of the whole Church of Christ. Viewing the enterprise in all its difficulties, they are constrained to exclaim, With man this is impossible! Their only ground, yet a sure ground, of encouragement is, that with God all things are possible!

CONCLUSION.

Your Committee, in closing their Report of the proceedings of the Society during its Thirty-sixth year, are constrained to acknowledge, with gratitude to God, that the tokens of His favour have been not only many and great, but increasingly such. The facts already stated demonstrate this. The Committee would humbly and devoutly ascribe all the glory of the successes of the Society to the energy of that Holy Spirit who secretly and powerfully works in the hearts of His servants: and they call on their friends to abound in thankfulness and hope, to adore the Giver of every good and perfect gift, and to rejoice with trembling.

Surveying on every side the opening spheres of labour, your Committee strongly feel that the present is a time in which the thoughts of the Christian public are drawn out to a yet more enlarged view of the obligations under which we lie to the Unconverted World.

The proposed Mission to China has already been referred to; and it is the earnest hope of the Committee that they may be enabled to carry out a Mission into that immense empire. During the past year, likewise, the Society has been invited to occupy a field of a strictly Missionary Character in another part of the world, the South of Africa. When objects of this nature are presented to their view, they feel that this Society would fall short of its Missionary Character, did they not renew their appeals on behalf of those benighted regions. For, as it is the office of the Established Ministry to meet the ever-growing spiritual wants of a professedly Christian people; so is it the bounden duty of Missionary Societies, to turn up new ground; to be pressing on farther and farther; breaking forth to the right hand and to the left; lengthening the cords and strengthening the stakes of that tent, which is to be planted in the earth, and which is to gather beneath its protection the most scattered, the most forlorn and outcast tribes of the Family of Man.

With all the pressing obligations which thus multiply upon them, the Committee feel themselves bound, therefore, to reiterate their appeal on behalf of Missions already established, and of Missions yet to be formed. They are grateful for augmented funds; but they still have to renew their call for able, educated, and pious men. They look for aid from the Universities; but, of this class, the Committee regret to say, that, hitherto, the number of Candidates has been small. They trust, however, that when the claims of the East, and its peculiar circumstances, shall have been fully exhibited, learned and humble, yet devoted, young men, will rise up from the very bosom of the Church, resolved that the Nations shall not for ever cry in vain.

Indeed, if the arguments used in our own country were not sufficient to prevail, it might surely wring the hearts of English Christians to hear in what terms a converted Native of India calls upon them to send out more Labourers:—"Tell them," says one of these Hindoo Converts, William Churrun, to Rev. Mr. Wilkinson—"tell them, that William Churrun, by the grace of God a servant of Jesus Christ, was once a servant of sin; and would have been a servant of sin now, had they not sent you to tell me of Christ crucified for sinners. Tell them my heart thanks them. Oh! when I think, that had not English Christians sent Jesus Christ to me, I must have been for ever lost, I cannot help loving them.—Next tell them, we wonder much that they only send one or two Missionaries. What are one or two? Do they not know how many millions of my poor Hindoo Brethren are yet without God? Oh! tell them that William, who thanks them for himself, blames them on account of others. I have heard you say there are many millions of people in England; and then I think—Well, many millions; and only one, two, or three Missionaries come to India to save millions of those who are perishing in sin! Tell them we have three hundred and thirty millions of gods, whose slaves we are. And, oh! tell them, that though these gods never spoke before, yet, in the Day of Judgment, the God of English Christians, who is the God of the whole world, will give each a tongue, to condemn them, for not sending the Gospel and more Missionaries to India."

The Committee would, however, in conclusion, revert to that feeling which they humbly trust has been the vital principle of their proceedings during the past year, and which they fervently hope will constantly animate the Members and Friends of every Missionary Institution. It is their solemn conviction, that, without the pouring out of the Spirit from on High, every appeal and every effort must be made in vain. It were but lost labour to devote ourselves to writing, speaking, journeying, suffering, and even dying, in this most blessed cause, did not our hopes rest on the sure promises of an Almighty, All-wise, and most merciful Saviour and Lord. Especially with regard to the supply of suitable Candidates, your Committee call upon every faithful servant of Christ to remember, that holy men can be raised up only by Him; and that the method of prevailing with Him to do this, is, fervent, believing, and persevering prayer. It was the adorable Redeemer Himself, who expressly directed his Disciples to look up to Him in supplications, that He would supply this succour for a perishing world. When He saw the multitudes, He was moved with compassion on them, because they fainted, and were scattered abroad, as sheep having no shepherd. Then saith He unto His disciples, The harvest truly is plenteous, but the Labourers are few: pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that He will send forth Labourers into His harvest.

LETTER OF THE SECRETARIES TO THE REV. JOHN TUCKER, RESPECTING THE REV. C. T. E. RHENIUS.

Church Missionary House,
London, Feb. 13, 1835.

DEAR SIR,

1. THE Committee have had under their very serious deliberation the Rev. C. T. E. Rhenius's two Tracts, entitled "A Review," &c., and "Union of all Christians;" the communications of the Corresponding Committee respecting these Publications; and the Numbers of the "Madras Male-Asylum Herald," and "Madras Times," to the 4th of October, containing Articles in reference to them. It is scarcely necessary to say, that these communications have very deeply afflicted the Committee. The conclusions to which they have come on this very painful subject are expressed in the Resolutions, of which a copy is enclosed.

2. The first remark we would make on the course pursued by Mr. Rhenius, in publishing the Tracts above mentioned, is, that the procedure was altogether unprovoked by any act of the Committee here, or of the Corresponding Committee at Madras. Into Mr. Rhenius's personal discussion with the Rev. H. Harper the Committee abstain from entering; as, whatever ground of complaint against Mr. Harper which he might have, or suppose he had, it could not justify him in taking a step which necessarily implicated him with the Society, as a Missionary of which he had for twenty years been labouring in India. We do not say that Mr. Rhenius himself saw that this must be the result of publishing his Tracts; but that he did not see this, only shows, that when one particular view of a subject is strongly taken up, and powerfully occupies the mind, the individual thus situated becomes unconsciously disqualified for judging correctly of the consequences of his own opinions and actions. Had Mr. Rhenius duly adverted to the tenor of the Letter addressed by the Committee to himself and Mr. Schmid, August 2, 1831, he could, we think, scarcely have failed to perceive that an attack upon the Church of England, and upon all her Institutions and arrangements, made by him avowedly, and made expressly in his Missionary character, left the Committee no alternative, but to deliberate, and to decide on the step which he had thus taken.

3. The Committee indeed were not unaware of the general views entertained by Mr. Rhenius, as a Lutheran Clergyman, in reference to the Church of England; but while he held those opinions as the private conclusions of his own mind, without publishing them to the world, they did not conceive themselves called upon to dissolve their connexion with him on that account. They were withheld from such a course by various considerations. When Mr. Rhenius first became connected with the Church Missionary Society, in 1813, it had not as yet entered into the field of India. At that period, however, a very lively interest was excited among the Members of the Society to extend its influence to that country, in consequence of the renewal of the East-India Company's Charter, which took place in that year, and that under circumstances highly favourable to the carrying on of Missionary operations in that vast country. The Rev. Messrs. Rhenius and Schnarré were, accordingly, set apart for that sphere of labour; and landed at Madras in June 1814. Mr. Rhenius was stationed at the Presidency until 1820; when, under the direction of the Committee, he removed to Palamcottah. Here Mr. Rhenius has continued his labours ever since, with zeal and diligence, accompanied with evident tokens of the Divine Blessing. Other Missionaries have from time to time been associated with him at the Station, until, by the grace of God, it has been brought to its present conspicuous elevation among modern Missions.

4. Mr. Rhenius's course having thus been marked by unequivocal testimonies of the Divine favour, the Committee were naturally reluctant to take any steps which should terminate his connexion with the Society, and thus deprive the Mission of his valuable and important services, unless constrained to it by absolute necessity. Hence, when discussions arose between Mr. Rhenius and the Committee on the subject of Ordination, in consequence of Mr. Rhenius's proposal to admit some of his Catechists into the Ministry according to the rites of the Lutheran Church — though they declined to sanction such a proceeding now that there is a Bishop of our own Church in India — they nevertheless, with a view to conciliate Mr. Rhenius, and to meet his wishes so far as they felt themselves justified in doing, left him at liberty to pursue his labours in the Mission in the mode in which he had previously carried them on. In the Letter to Messrs. Rhenius and Schmid of August 2, 1831, already referred to, while the Committee informed them that "they did not feel themselves at liberty to sanction the settlement of the converts gathered from among the Heathen, by the blessing of God on the labours of the Society's Missionaries, on any other principles than those of the Church of England, so far as the means of thus settling them were in providence placed within their reach;" they at the same time expressed themselves thus:—

"The Committee make no demand upon your assent to the points at issue: they only claim, that those who are converted to the Christian Faith, through the instrumentality of the Society, shall not be formed into a community on the model of a Church, different from that to which the Society itself belongs. We confidently appeal to your own good sense for the reasonableness of this proceeding. We trust that you will believe that the Committee feel as conscientious an attachment to the Institutions of the Church of England, as you do to those of that to which you belong. The Committee do not require you to adopt a different mode of carrying on the Mission than that which you have heretofore pursued; nor do they purpose to press English Ordination on the Catechists now employed by you in the Mission, who may still, in that capacity, render you the same assistance which they have hitherto done. All the Committee claim, is, that those who are initiated into the Christian Faith by our means, should be assimilated to ourselves, when formally settled as a Christian Community; because they sincerely believe that the Constitution and Formularies of the Church of England are both true and Scriptural; and that this course is, in our circumstances, best calculated to promote the extension of Christianity in India."

The Committee thus manifested their readiness to go as far as they consistently could to meet Mr. Rhenius's views, in order to retain him in connexion with the Society.

5. They were the more influenced to adopt this course, by the recollection, that at the period when Mr. Rhenius commenced his labours there was no Bishop of the English Church in India; and that the Mission had, to a certain extent, assumed its form and consistency when it was not practicable to obtain, in the country, admission to Holy Orders in the Church of England, for persons connected with the Society. The Committee were likewise aware, that, at a period antecedent to the establishment of the English Episcopate in India, the Society for Promoting Christian Knowledge had sanctioned, in their Missions, the admission of Native Catechists into the Ministry, according to the rites of the Lutheran Church. Of this fact Mr. Rhenius was aware also, and urged it as a reason for the Committee's sanctioning a similar proceeding in the Church Missionary Society's Mission in Tinnevelly; though the inference, which Mr. Rhenius drew from that precedent, was manifestly inconclusive; since there was an English Bishop in India, willing to receive the Society's Candidates for Ordination, at the very time when Mr. Rhenius wished to have recourse to Lutheran Orders; which was not the case when the Society for Promoting Christian Knowledge sanctioned the Ordination of its Catechists according to the Lutheran form.

6. The Committee having thus striven to maintain their connexion with Mr. Rhenius without a compromise of their own principles, learned, with much pain, by a Letter from him, of June 16, 1832, that he was not prepared to accede to the arrangement proposed in their Letter of August 2, 1831. In that Letter, Mr. Rhenius made three propositions to the Committee: (1) To permit him to return to Europe. (2) To return to Madras, and be employed in translating the Scriptures into Tamul, and in publishing religious books for the Tamul Congregations. (3) To attach himself there to another Society. Of these propositions, the Committee chose the first; as presenting the opportunity of personal conference with Mr. Rhenius, on the points on which they differed. A voyage to Europe, too, appeared, from the same Letter, likely to prove beneficial to his health. To this decision of the Committee, Mr. Rhenius in the first instance acceded, by a Letter to that effect, to the Corresponding Committee, dated Aug. 29, 1833. In consequence of this Letter, arrangements were made by them in order to give effect to Mr. Rhenius's decision; and your Letter of Nov. 23, 1833, led us to expect that he would probably sail for England in the following January. Under date of Nov. 25, 1833, however, Mr. Rhenius addressed a Letter to the Parent Committee, through you, stating, that "after the receipt of the Committee's Letters, inviting him to pay them a visit in Europe, he had fully resolved to do so, and was preparing for it; but so many voices, both of Europeans and Natives, were raised against it, from all sides, near and far, that he had at last seen it his duty to change the purpose, and to stay at his post, at any rate." He adds, "I sincerely wish and pray that nothing may again occur to disturb us in our work:" —a strain well calculated to allay any apprehensions which might have existed of Mr. Rhenius's committing the Society by any overt act.

7. Mr. Rhenius having been fully apprised of the views of the Committee, with regard to the mode of his conducting the Mission, in their Letter of August 2, 1831; and having, after much deliberation, determined to remain at his post; the Committee could not but regard his decision to remain in Tinnevelly as a tacit engagement on his part to conform to that course of procedure in the Mission which, in the abovementioned Letter, had been explained to him. Neither on their part, nor on the part of the Corresponding Committee at Madras, was any thing subsequently done to interrupt the good understanding which appeared to be re-established with Mr. Rhenius. The Parent Committee perfectly concur in the correctness of the view taken in your Letter to us of September 6, 1834—that "they (the Corresponding Committee) had hoped that there was a sort of tacit understanding between them (the Corresponding Committee, and Mr. Rhenius), that each would endeavour to avoid placing the other in such a position as would require him to bring forward his opposite principles; and that both should occupy, as far as they could consistently, the common space of Christian love and activity open before them." Such was the state of things, when Mr. Rhenius published his "Review" &c., and "Union of all Christians." Not the slightest provocation or incitement had been offered, either by the Parent or Corresponding Committee, to afford Mr. Rhenius any ground to take so serious and so responsible a step. It was, so far as the Society was concerned, entirely spontaneous. Under these circumstances it was, that Mr. Rhenius published "A Review of a Work, entitled 'The Church &c.,' by C. T. E. Rhenius, Missionary, Tinnevelly, 1834." In this Tract, the Episcopacy of the Church of England (pp. 2—22); her Ritual (pp. 22—29); the Canons (pp. 29—33); the 37th Article (p. 33); the obligations contracted by her Clergy on admission to Holy Orders (pp. 33—36); are at much length animadverted on, and disparaged. Under all these heads, indeed, Mr. Rhenius impugns the Government, Ritual, Formularies, and Discipline of that Church, with which he stood connected as a Missionary of this Society. The "Review" is thus summed up by Mr. Rhenius:—

"In conclusion, from what I have said on the various assertions of the writer respecting the constitution and form of the Church of England, it appears, then, that her doctrine is not entirely built upon the Prophets and Apostles, and, therefore, not altogether evangelical; that her government is not altogether Apostolical; and that her Liturgy is not an extract from the best primitive forms: for as for the latter, there were none: and as for the former, it has been shown that the Apostles taught nothing of three distinct orders of ordinary officers in the Church, or of raising one Bishop or Presbyter over another in rank, dignity, emolument, or greatness: they thought nothing of constituting secular Kings and governments to be the heads and arbitrators in the Church of Christ; they taught nothing about making crosses, wearing peculiar vestments, and changing them during Divine Service; or about excommunicating those who do not regard them, nor about any other particulars which I have excepted against before. All these things rest, in my opinion, solely upon human authority, and are relics of the Antichristian Church of Rome."

8. Such was the course pursued by Mr. Rhenius while filling the office of a Missionary of the Church Missionary Society. In this situation does he voluntary come forth, publicly to assail that Church, of which the persons constituting the Society which sent him out, and with which he had been connected more than twenty years, were attached and zealous Members.

9. The evil consequences which ensued were such as might naturally be expected, and which Mr. Rhenius ought to have foreseen. No sooner was the Tract published, than the subject was taken up in the Madras Newspapers. In the interval between the 16th of August last and the 4th of October, inclusive, no less than eighteen Articles appeared in the "Madras Male-Asylum Herald," and the "Madras Times," in reference to Mr. Rhenius's "Review"; of which three were written by Mr. Rhenius himself. We refer to these circumstances, because they demonstrably prove that much attention was drawn to Mr. Rhenius's Tract, and extensive publicity given to it, in addition to that resulting from the publication of the Tract itself. We dwell particularly on this point; because it is the publicity voluntarily given to his opinions respecting the Church of England, by issuing his Tract from the Press, which constitutes, in the judgment of the Committee, the special ground of blame against Mr. Rhenius, in this proceeding. And the further publicity given to his opinions, by the discussions in the Newspapers, is a consequence for which he is justly responsible, the voluntary publication of his own Tract having given rise to it.

10. In this state of the question, neither the Corresponding Committee in Madras nor the Parent Committee could avoid taking cognisance of it. The necessity of doing this, under which they were respectively laid, was extremely distressing to them both; as they were most solicitous that the connexion which had so long and so advantageously subsisted between Mr. Rhenius and the Society should be maintained, in a manner satisfactory both to themselves and to him. The course pursued by the Corresponding Committee, in dealing with this subject, was marked by sound judgment and good feeling, and has met with the entire and cordial approbation of the Parent Committee. The Corresponding Committee, while they expressed to Mr. Rhenius their deep regret at the course which he had pursued in this matter, referred the decision of the question to the Parent Committee. They thus judiciously placed the Parent Committee in a situation uncompromised, and unembarrassed by any positive decision of their own; simply detailing such information and explanations as were requisite to place the whole question distinctly before the tribunal to which it was referred.

11. On entering upon the consideration of the subject, the Committee felt themselves called to the discharge of a very serious and a very painful duty. They were deeply impressed with Mr. Rhenius's piety, zeal, devotedness, and unwearied labours, through the long period of twenty years during which he had been connected with the Society. Deeply, too, did they feel impressed with the consideration of the large measure of the Divine blessing with which Mr. Rhenius's labours had, during that period, been honoured and prospered. Proportionable, therefore, were their regret and distress at the course pursued by Mr. Rhenius, in publicly impugning the Government, Ritual, Formularies, and Discipline of the Church of England, as already described, while he stood connected with a Church-of-England Society, as one of its Missionaries. After mature deliberation, the Committee were of opinion that the overt act of Mr. Rhenius, in publishing the matter contained in the above-mentioned Tract, left them no alternative, but to dissolve their connexion with him. Afflicting as it was to them to take this step, with regard to one whom, on many grounds, they esteem and honour, yet they felt bound, in consistency, as attached Members of the Church of England, to declare, in the enclosed Resolution, that the Missionary relation which had hitherto subsisted between the Society and Mr. Rhenius was at an end. Never, we believe, did the Committee come so reluctantly to a decision, as that which in this case a sense of duty constrained them to pronounce. Gladly would they have taken some intermediate course, had it appeared to them practicable to do so, without a compromise of principle. Grave, however, as the case before them is, in its own circumstances, the Committee will not view it disconnected from the matters which have arisen in discussion between themselves and Mr. Rhenius on former occasions. After having, therefore, carefully examined the question in all its bearings, the dissolution of the connexion which had heretofore subsisted between themselves and Mr. Rhenius appeared to be the unavoidable conequence of the step which he had, as they think, in so uncalled-for a manner, taken.

12. The Committee cannot contemplate the termination of their connexion with Mr. Rhenius, without the strongest expression of their regret that he should have been induced to yield to any influence subjecting both himself and them to a result so painful. Surely it may be said, the Enemy hath done this. He is ever on the watch to interrupt and mar the work of God; and the dividing of those whose united labours endanger and undermine his kingdom, has ever been one of his most successful devices to accomplish this. This is an humbling as well as afflicting view of things. May we have grace at length to learn wisdom by experience; and, by the cultivation of a spirit of love, and peace, and unity, strive together for the furtherance of the Gospel!

13. Before quitting this part of the subject, it may be requisite to advert to statements made in Mr. Rhenius's Letter to us of September 3, 1834; wherein he says, that "he sent us a copy of the 'Review,' in manuscript, for our information." This was done in the Letter containing the three propositions, already noticed, of June 16, 1832; which reached the Committee on the 24th of December in that year. On this manuscript copy of the "Review" no remark was made. To this course the Committee were determined by the following considerations: — It was stated by Mr. Rhenius, that it was written at the request of the Rev. H. Harper, as a review of a work recently published by Mr. Harper, entitled "The Church," &c. It was not said that it was printed, or would be printed. Besides, Mr. Rhenius's general views on the points of difference between him and the Church of England were previously known; and, while they were not promulgated by him publicly and avowedly, the Committee did not consider themselves required to discuss them with him, further than they had done in their Letter of August 2, 1831, referred to above. It is also to be borne in mind, that as Mr. Rhenius had not been required to make any renunciation of the peculiar tenets of the Church in which he had been brought up and educated, when he joined the Society, he was fairly entitled to adhere to those tenets, as his private judgment, so long as he did not publicly impugn those of the Church with which he had, in a certain degree, connected himself, by going to India as a Missionary of the Church Missionary Society.

14. The position of affairs between Mr. Rhenius and the Committee is also to be considered at the period when his manuscript "Review" reached them. The Letter which covered the transmission of it, conveyed to the Committee his decision not to remain at Tinnevelly; but offering three alternatives to their consideration; of which one was, to return to Europe; and which, as stated already, was the one which they adopted. It was therefore to be anticipated, that Mr. Rhenius's receipt of their reply to his Letter which transmitted the "Review" would be followed by his quitting India, and coming home. Under these circumstances, it would have been only to excite needless irritation to reprehend the statements contained in the "Review;" which the Committee must have done, if they had touched upon the work at all. They therefore passed it over untouched, in replying to Mr. Rhenius's Letter, which covered it.

15. It may occur to some of our friends, that, instead of absolutely dissolving their connexion with Mr. Rhenius, the Committee might have adopted the more lenient course, of simply recalling him. It may be well, therefore, to explain the reasons why that course was not taken.

16. Adverting to the discussions which have at different times taken place between the Committee and Mr. Rhenius on matters distinctive of the Church of England—to the contents of the two Tracts—and to the time when, and the circumstances under which, they were published—the Committee were of opinion, that such a state of things had arisen, that the dissolution of Mr. Rhenius's connexion with the Society was inevitable. The mode, therefore, in which, under all the circumstances, that painful step could be taken with least detriment to the Mission, was the special point which the Committee had to consider. Under this view of the subject, it appeared to them requisite that the transfer of the Mission, from Mr. Rhenius to those to whom the charge of it was in future to be confided, should take place promptly, and with the least possible delay. Had Mr. Rhenius been simply recalled, this must have been done subject to his not acceding to their wish that he should leave the Mission; in which case, another reference of the matter home would have been the consequence: or his recall might have been accompanied by a contingent Resolution for his entire separation from the Society, in case of his not quitting the Mission, as directed by the Committee. The indecisiveness of both these alternatives would necessarily have left space for considerations being urged on Mr. Rhenius's mind, which might have determined him not to remove from Tinnevelly. Such a determination on his part must have immediately divided the Mission, and placed Mr. Rhenius in a state of collision with the Society; and thus have led to the most disastrous consequences. This was a result which the Committee were bound, if possible, to avert; and the surest way to avert it seemed to be, such a decisive course of proceeding as should leave no opening for hesitation on the part of Mr. Rhenius, or for his mind being improperly influenced by those who were either not acquainted with the facts of the case, or who did not justly appreciate the duty of Mr. Rhenius under such circumstances. The Committee were the more impelled so to proceed, when they recollected the representations made to Mr. Rhenius, which are stated in Par. 5, of your Letter of Sept. 6, 1834. These representations assume, that Mr. Rhenius was entitled to pursue an independent course, with regard to certain parts of the Mission, in the event of his separation from the Society; and tended to induce him to take that course, involving, as it necessarily must, that division in the Mission, and direct collision with the Society, already referred to, from which the most serious and irreparable mischief was to be apprehended. Such representations would indeed have been founded on an altogether erroneous view of the substantial justice of the case. Whatever Mr. Rhenius had acquired in the Mission, by the influence of his personal character, or the Divine blessing on his labours, he had acquired as a Missionary of the Church Missionary Society. It is therefore clear, that Mr. Rhenius, by voluntarily pursuing a course which compelled the Committee to dissolve their connexion with him, divested himself of all right to regulate or interfere with the conduct of the Mission in any way whatever, after that connexion was dissolved. It is farther to be considered, that Mr. Rhenius was only one Missionary out of several employed to carry on the Mission. While, therefore, the Committee cheerfully bear witness to the talents, eminent spiritual gifts, and large measure of Divine grace, by which it has pleased God to distinguish Mr. Rhenius, and thankfully give glory to Him for all that has been wrought by Mr. Rhenius's instrumentality, they cannot admit, that, as disconnected from the Society, he could advance any just claim to retain the direction or controul of any part of the Mission, in opposition to them. But, however clear and unquestionable this fact may be, yet, anticipating, as the Committee had reason to anticipate, how Mr. Rhenius's mind would probably be acted on—and adverting, as they could not but do, to the powerful inducement under which he was likely to be laid by his peculiar situation to yield to such suggestions—they saw no other alternative so likely to avoid the most serious evils to the Mission, as by at once declaring Mr. Rhenius's connexion with the Society to be at an end. As, therefore, the recall of Mr. Rhenius would, in fact, have been the dissolution of the Committee's connexion with him, and as that course was open to the consequences just adverted to, the Committee, while animated by the most friendly disposition toward Mr. Rhenius, conceived that they should best discharge the painful duty imposed upon them by the more direct and decisive step which they have taken.

17. Before we close, it is requisite that we should briefly advert to one or two points referred to in Mr. Rhenius's Letter to you of September 17, 1834. He states:—"Since many years, it has frequently been intimated by Clerical members of the Church of England, our Committee not excepted, as if German Clergymen were not rightly ordained Ministers of the Gospel. This was followed by endeavours to re-ordain them by an English Bishop. Those who declined the offer were not indeed discarded by the Committee; but it was sufficiently intimated, that they were retained rather from favour, than from an acknowledgment of their rights. They were regarded as but pioneers to English Clergymen, and set behind them." It grieves the Committee to find Mr. Rhenius so lightly giving heed to reports relative to their views and feelings, so much calculated to prejudice his mind against them. On every one of these points, so far as the Committee is concerned, Mr. Rhenius has been entirely misinformed. It is the more painful to them to find these things re-stated; since the most material of them were thus replied to in paragraphs 9 & 10 of the Letter of Aug. 2, 1831, already repeatedly referred to:—

"You are under a misapprehension, in supposing that there is an implied denial of the validity of Lutheran Orders, in the Committee's withholding their sanction from your conferring them on the Christian Natives in the Tinnevelly Mission. The preceding part of this Letter will show you, that the decision of the Committee proceeds altogether on other grounds. The question indeed of the validity or invalidity of Lutheran Orders is not at all raised by us in the present discussion: we merely maintain the scripturalness of our own, and plead for the liberty to conduct the Missions of the Society in conformity with the Institutions of our own Church.

"On another point, also, you are under misapprehension. No exertions have ever been made, either in India or England, to re-ordain German Clergymen by an English Bishop. In every instance wherein a German Clergyman connected with the Society has been re-ordained by an English Bishop, it has been entirely his own act, having been neither recommended nor suggested by us."

How erroneously Mr. Rhenius ascribes to the Committee a disposition to disparage Lutheran Clergymen connected with the Society, is shown by the fact of the position in which he was placed by them in Tinnevelly; and which they were willing that he should continue to occupy, even after his views in reference to ordination had been made known to them. (See Par. 3, above.)

18. The Committee cannot close this Letter without again expressing their anxious desire that all practicable means may be employed by the Corresponding Committee to render Mr. Rhenius's separation from the Mission as little injurious to it as possible. Their chief care must be, to provide, in the best way they may be able, for the spiritual well-being of the people. It is the manner in which they may be affected by the change, at least for a time, which occasions the Committee the deepest solicitude. The measures of the Corresponding Committee will, therefore, be specially directed to the making of such arrangements as may most effectually provide for, and carry forward, the religious instruction of the members of the Mission. To attain this object as fully as possible, other matters of a more subordinate nature must give way. May the Great Head of the Church graciously appear at this trying season, to avert impending evils, and to overrule this very painful event to the ultimate good of the Mission!

We remain, Dear Sir,

Truly and affectionately yours,

APPENDIX II.

(See P. 38.)

STATEMENT CIRCULATED BY THE MADRAS COMMITTEE.

MY DEAR SIR,

THE intelligence of the Rev. C. Rhenius's return to Tinnevelly has probably reached you. He has, since, declared his intention of remaining there; which must inevitably lead to disunion in the Mission, and be the cause of dissension in the Church of Christ.

I am therefore instructed by the Madras Corresponding Committee of the Church Missionary Society, to forward to you the following brief statement, in order that you may be made acquainted with the real circumstances of the case: and in the hope that you may be led to pray to the God of all peace, that He may, for His dear Son's sake, mitigate and remove the evils which are thus brought upon the Tinnevelly Mission,

I remain, My dear Sir, yours very faithfully,

J. TUCKER, Secretary.

AT a full Meeting of the Madras Corresponding Committee of the Church Missionary Society, held on Saturday, November 7, 1835, the following Resolutions were unanimously agreed upon:—

The Corresponding Committee, having read with pain, and with the greatest surprise, Mr. Rhenius's Letter to Mr. Pettitt of the 31st of October 1835; affirming, on the result of an investigation wholly ex parte and necessarily superficial, the statements received by him regarding the disturbed state of the Tinnevelly Mission to be substantially true; and expressing his determination to resume his labours in that Mission—his intention to take into his own immediate pay and charge, and to separate from the Church Missionary Society, numbers of its Catechists, and of the Congregations; and calling upon the Missionary in charge to refrain from interference with those parts of the Mission which he (Mr. Rhenius) may point out—

IT IS RESOLVED,

I. That the Corresponding Committee deem it their duty, in the first place, to declare their decided conviction, that in entering, in the manner he has done, upon this inquiry, and in thus hastily determining to intrude upon the Society's Mission, Mr. Rhenius has been unhappily misled by wicked and designing men. They declare his assertions, respecting the disturbed state of the Mission, to be unfounded; and unhesitatingly assert, from the information in their possession, that, with the exception of a very few cases, where dissatisfaction and disunion had been incited by Mr. Rhenius's own proceedings or those of his Native agents, that the Tinnevelly Mission was, at the period of his departure from Arcot, quiet and peaceful. They strongly therefore protest against his unjustifiable interference with their Mission, contrary to the established usage amongst Missions; and declare his proceedings to be, in their judgment, inconsistent with the character of a Christian Missionary, and calculated to injure the cause of Christ.

II. They further disavow his claim, or right in any respect, to any part of the Society's Mission: and, with their judgments convinced that the cause of the Church Missionary Society in Tinnevelly is not the cause of the Church of England only, but of truth and righteousness, they resolve to use their best exertions to retain, by all Christian means, the whole Mission, and to exclude and prevent all interference with it.

III. They deem this to be the path of duty; satisfied that the attempt now making by Mr. Rhenius to disunite the Tinnevelly Mission, to intermingle, and establish throughout it, Church ordinances and a Form of Church government at variance with the form and discipline of the Church of England, can have but one tendency—to lead to unholy strife and collision, to take off the minds of both Ministers and people from the substance, to the mere form, of Christianity—to check the progress of the Gospel generally—and to render the whole Mission barren and unfruitful.

IV. They finally resolve, therefore, to direct the Missionary in charge, to pay no attention to Mr. Rhenius's call upon him to yield up a part of the Mission; that he consider the whole Mission, as when first placed under his charge, the sphere of his duties and labours; and, that he use his best endeavours to retain it, in every respect, whole and undivided, as he received it.

The friends of the Church Missionary Society will perceive, from the above declaration, that the Madras Corresponding Committee consider it their duty to adopt a decided course; and to "use their best exertions to retain, by all Christian means, the whole Mission, and to exclude and prevent all interference with it." The necessity under which they are placed will, they trust, appear evident, in the judgment of every Christian Brother, when he is made acquainted with the particulars now detailed.

It appears to them the most convenient method of arranging the details, to produce, first, the Letter of the Rev. C. Rhenius to the Rev. G. Pettitt, dated October 31, 1835, adverted to in the preceding Resolutions; and to subjoin their own remarks, in the following explanatory notes.

MY DEAR BROTHER — Agreeably to the voluntary request of a large majority of the Catechists and Congregations, I arrived here last week; and having assembled them together on the 28th last, I have in these days most minutely examined into the truth of the contents of their Letters to me and my Brethren. I wish you had been present, or had at least sent me copies of your Reports to the Committee, agreeably to my request; but, as you declined doing so, I have been obliged to go on with the inquiry without them. I have however publicly and faithfully read the Letters which some time ago I received from the Rev. Mr. Tucker, and latterly from Asirruthumpilly and Co., and made known of the contrary reports as much as I knew by private information.

After a most attentive and faithful investigation, I have come to the conclusion, that the contents of the Letters of these Catechists are substantially the truth; and that, consequently, they are entitled to respect, as well as the Catechists to much pity on account of the wrong they have suffered. It has therefore become my duty to comply with their request, and to resume the oversight over their spiritual concerns. Accordingly, I have sent the Catechists to their respective stations. Enclosed is a list of them.

I now request you will be so good as to desist from superintending those Congregations; and to direct your people not to molest them, whilst they peaceably learn the Word of God, and build up each other in their most holy faith. Let the Gospel liberty be every where respected, that all unpleasant and unjustifiable altercations may be prevented. I regret exceedingly that you have not kept to the word which you announced last month (as I am informed) to the Catechists; viz. that whomsoever will unite with me, or with you, let them do so. Had this been adhered to, none of those irritations, which have in these days appeared, would have occurred.

I understand that the Chapels are likely to become the objects of difference. Now, with respect to those Chapels which have been built with the Church Missionary Society's money (as those of Tinnevelly, Asirradapuram, Kirubapuram, &c.), it is but just to acknowledge, that they are their property; but I hope the Committee will come to an agreement with me about them; for which purpose I shall write to them. In the mean time, I request you will have no objection to our making use of them. There are other small Chapels, and these are the most numerous, which the people themselves have built, with a small assistance from me from the Local Fund. These we claim, of course, as common property of the people and the Local Fund. The same is the case, also, with the Catechists' houses. The Chapel at Dohnavoor I have built with the money which I received from a Nobleman in Prussia. To my occupying this Church, you will of course have no objection. About the Church here in Moorragenkeritely, I will not yet say any thing.

It grieves me to hear that some of your people have attempted in these days to nail up Churches of the second description. Now, let me entreat you to stop such proceedings, if it be indeed true that such attempts have been made. They can be of no use; and only tend to increase the breach that has been made, and to dishonour the Christian name.

I am convinced that I have only done my duty toward the people and the cause of Christ in the step I have taken, and that I have not used any unfair means whatsoever to gain it. Should you like to know an explanation of the conclusion to which I have come, I shall be happy to give it you, in a conference.

I remain, My dear Brother, yours truly,
Palamcottah, Oct. 31, 1835. C. RHENIUS.

P.S. The Catechists have written a request to you, for their pay of the last month, and some previous months. I think it is but just that they should receive it. If you have no objection, then please to send it to me.

"Voluntary request."]—The inaccuracy of these terms will appear, from the following facts:

1. From the time of Mr. Rhenius's departure from Palamcottah, until the day of his return, he kept up a constant correspondence with the Catechists and others in the service of the Church Missionary Society, altogether independent of the Missionaries; and the nature of which they could only ascertain, either by direct investigation, or by what incidentally dropped from those who had read or heard the Letters — a proceeding which evidently must have tended to encourage the hope of his return. The Committee leave it to their friends to judge for themselves, whether, after having altogether withdrawn from the Mission, and made over the charge of the Congregations and Catechists, and delivered over the funds and documents into the hands of the representative of the Church Missionary Society, this course was consistent with Christian and honourable principles.

2. The value of this "voluntary request" may be further judged of, from the characters of Mr. Rhenius's leading Native agents, with some of whom he kept up the communications above referred to; compared with the characters of those who have hitherto adhered to the Church Missionary Society.

(1) The first to be noticed is David, who was for several years a Head Catechist, and Mr. Rhenius's principal agent in the Mission; and who has been, throughout, one of the prime movers in all these unhappy transactions. The artfulness and unworthy proceedings of David are well known; and have been acknowledged, more than once, by Mr. Rhenius's fellow-labourers, to European Christian friends, and to the Secretary. His salary was latterly 14 rupees per mensem; and having, by his own acknowledgment, been without resources when he was first taken into the service of the Church Missionary Society, he has now become possessed of the following property, which appears in his own name, in the Collector's Cutchery; and for collecting the rents of which, he paid a Canaker 3 rupees per mensem:—two villages, viz. Savindrapuram, and Pudpo; some fields and trees near the old Pettah; and a piece of ground near the Mission Compound.

It was about the time of the purchase of the second and largest village* that he forwarded the following Petition to the Committee, through the Secretary:—

REV. AND WORTHY SIR — The narrow means of my livelihood, and the increasing bulk of my family, as well as my station at Palamcottah, induce me to

* In a Letter addressed by Mr. Tucker to the Madras Committee, on his second visit to Tinnevelly in November last, he says: "I find I have made an immaterial error in the account of David's property. It was not this village, but the two fields, which were purchased by him in the course of this year."

submit most humbly this my second petition to your favourable consideration.

In my first petition, which I have taken the liberty to send through the Rev. P. P. Schaffter, I ventured to represent to you my distresses, and begged the benevolent attention of the respectable Committee for my being relieved from them.

As it has pleased God to enable you to visit our Mission, and to take a view of the state of our situation, I rejoice in the hope, that my distressful circumstance also would be made known to you by my respectable superiors here; and that you would be pleased to recommend to the respectable Committee, for their generous attention to my humble petition.

Commending myself and my family to their paternal protection, and to your blessing and kindness, I have the honour to be, with humble respects,

Reverend and worthy Sir,
Your most obedient and humble servant,
J. DAVID PILLEY.

Palamcottah, March 27, 1835.

Shortly after the withdrawal of the Rev. Messrs. Schaffter, Müller, and Lechler, David resigned his situation. The circumstances that led to it, exhibiting his dishonesty, are detailed in the following extract from a Letter from the Secretary (the Rev. J. Tucker) to the Acting Secretary, at Madras, dated Palamcottah, July 15, 1835:—

I have now to announce to you the resignation of David, the Head Catechist of the Mission. When the Committee are made acquainted with all the circumstances of the case, they will hardly regret his loss. The immediate circumstances, that appear to have led to his taking this step, were as follows. According to Mr. Rhenius's custom, I paid to David the monthly salaries of the Catechists on the Thursday morning, in the month of the weekly meeting; entering in the book the name of each Catechist, and the amount due to him. The total amounted to Rupees 632.10.3; whereas in April and May it was Rupees 618 and 614. 8, and in the preceding months less than Rupees 600. I investigated the items, as far as I could at the time; but as the Catechists were waiting in the Church, I told David to be careful not to pay any thing that was not really due, and that I would fully inquire into it after the business of the week was over. On the following morning, the Rev. J. Devasagayam came to me, to say that David had not been acting conscientiously; and mentioned the particulars in the Catechist's account, in which this had been the case. Several of the Head Catechists afterwards assembled for the transaction of other business: the Rev. G. Pettitt and the Rev. J. Devasagayam were also present. Upon investigating the subject, it appeared that he had, without any communication with me, appointed one Catechist at a salary of Rupees 4 per mensem; to a second he had also assigned a too large salary of Rupees 4; to an Assistant Head-Catechist he had assigned Rupees 10, instead of Rupees 7; and a Catechist whom Mr. Rhenius had suspended for telling lies, he had not only re-appointed, but had taken for him his salary of Rupees 7 for the preceding month, during which he had not even been to his Station.

The Secretary further states, that, on being called upon, David had returned the sums above quoted, amounting in all to 18 rupees.

At the following Monthly Meeting of the Catechists, it was discovered that David was secretly getting the Catechists to his house, to sign a Letter to Mr. Rhenius; and the Secretary and the Rev. Mr. Pettitt, having heard something of its contents and spirit, felt it their duty to investigate the whole affair, in the presence of the Rev. Messrs. Dent and Devasagayam; and Mr. E. Sargent (European Catechist); and the Inspecting Catechists, who had not returned home;—and the Secretary has no hesitation in asserting, not merely upon the testimony of the Catechists themselves, but upon the circumstantial evidence adduced, that a large proportion of the Catechists who signed this Letter were utterly ignorant that there was any expression of dissatisfaction in it; and that the whole affair was a wicked trick of David and a few others.—The Secretary took notes of the examination at the time; and, if necessary, they shall be laid verbatim before the friends of the Society, together with other particulars respecting this individual, who appears to have been again received into Mr. Rhenius's full confidence, and to occupy a prominent station in his service.

(2) The next person is Appavoo Pilley, one of the Inspecting Catechists; the only one who signed the Letter above alluded to, and to whom the following extract refers.

Extract from a Letter from the Secretary to the Rev. C. Rhenius, dated August 15, 1835:—

As Appavoo had signed it, we first made inquiries of him. He said, that you had written, sending your remembrances, &c. to the Catechists; and that David had asked him to sign a Letter, which he understood to be merely an expression of thanks to you, and a general account of things here; that he had only looked at the beginning of the Letter, and, being in a hurry, signed his name. Afterwards, when he found, from the statements of others, what was really in the Letter, he voluntarily expressed his sorrow that he had been so deceived; said he had no idea that David was such a man; and spoke of writing to you, to explain matters. I told him, that if he felt that he had unintentionally misled you, it was due to himself and you to let you know the truth, but that it must be his own act. He intended to write; but I have not inquired whether he has done so or not.

In a subsequent report from the Rev. G. Pettitt, this same individual was stated to have been convicted of acting in direct opposition to his professions to the Rev. Mr. Tucker, and of having deliberately attempted to deceive, by gross prevarication and falsehood.

(3) The third person is Sarkunen; who was sent to Jaffna, to receive a better education, at the expense of the Church Missionary Society; and was, up to the time of his dismissal, master of the Seminary. The following extract from Mr. Pettitt's notes of Sarkunen's examination deserves particular attention:—

Asked persons to sign this Letter (requesting Mr. Rhenius's return, &c.) if they wished. Did persuade Royappen not to come to Mr. Pettitt. Told him, "Don't go." Did advise them (the Catechists), in the verandah, not to go one by one, but in a body. David got over the wall, and ran away. Did hear the Catechists speaking disrespectfully of Daniel and others, and did not check them. The Catechists did not know that they were about to sign this Letter. Has not heard that any Congregation requested, in a body, that Mr. Rhenius should come back; and has not inquired about it, although he wrote it in the Letter.

Did not sign the Letter last month sent to Mr. Rhenius. Was not asked to sign it. He wrote a separate Letter. Signed the Letter that was sent to Mr. Rhenius last night: it contained a copy of the Letter sent to the Committee:—and said, that they requested him to come; that they had given it to Mr. Pettitt in the shape of an olea.—Mr. Rhenius's Letter said, "Let not heart be troubled; do every thing in love, &c. Think of the instruction I have always given you. Do not give way to any things which are not contained in the Word of God, such as Rites and Ceremonies. We are now about to go to Arcot. We have much to do here. If it be the will of the Lord that we should come to Palamcottah, we will come. Devote yourselves and your Congregations to God, and He will preserve you."—It was dated Madras, 16th Aug. 1835: came by post. He began to compose this Letter after the receipt of Mr. Rhenius's.

Cannot positively say whether Mr. Tucker asked him if there was any sort of dissatisfaction in his mind.—Does not remember whether he told Mr. Tucker that he had no sort of dissatisfaction in his mind.

The fact is, that this individual, who speaks English well, was specially called into his room by Mr. Tucker before he quitted Tinnevelly, and earnestly and particularly questioned whether he had any dissatisfaction or scruples in respect to any matters in the Mission: he repeatedly and expressly affirmed to Mr. Tucker, in person, that there was no dissatisfaction whatever in his mind.

He admits, that he told Mr. Tucker that he wished to have his pay raised. Thinks, that if any one asked to have his pay raised, it would be right to conclude that he was willing to work under him, and that he had no scruples of conscience (to prevent it). He (Sarkunen) was in the Tanjore Mission, and baptized when a child.

States further, that he has read no book against the Rites of the Church of England, in her administration of the Lord's Supper and Baptism, except Mr. Rhenius's; and adds, that he has scruples of conscience, against the cross at Baptism, and Godfathers and Godmothers; but acknowledges, that he had offered himself and stood as godfather since I (Mr. Pettitt) came to the Mission, and said nothing at that period about the cross at baptism.

As an illustration of his character, and of the arts and falsities to which recourse was had, one further extract from this individual's deposition will be here given; premising, that at no time, and upon no occasion, did Mr. Tucker ever give any order, or in any way intimate even a wish, to the effect stated:—

Has been in the Mission since 1822. Was sent to Jaffna at the Mission's expense—been Schoolmaster ever since—has been supported by the Mission thirteen years.

He heard that the Catechists were prohibited from writing to Mr. Rhenius; or, if they wrote, they were to show it to Mr. Tucker first. He wrote this in his Letter to Mr. Rhenius—Does not remember whether he said, "It is so," or, "I have heard so." Mootoosawmi told him so—does not remember any one else in particular who told him—did not ask any body whether it was true or not.—He advised the Catechists, who expressed sorrow yesterday, and sent in contrary answers this morning, to do so.

(4) Manikam of Nellamalpuram.—This man was selected to deliver Mr. Rhenius's Letter to Mr. Pettitt. The first Letter to Mr. Rhenius, signed by some of the Catechists, already referred to, was in the handwriting of Manikam. This man had just at this time been called to account for keeping back money of the Society's for rents collected by him from the Christian village of Nellamalpuram. When examined respecting the Letter to Mr. Rhenius, he showed an ingenuity and depth in prevaricating, which the Secretary has rarely seen surpassed. Subsequently, the Rev. G. Pettitt writes, in a private Letter to Mr. Tucker, dated Satankullam, 15th August, 1835, regarding this man:—

Manikam came to make his humble confession last night at Anngraputam. He says, he told us lies on Saturday—that he tried to conceal all he could; and told the lies he did through the fear of Sinister: but now he is very sorry, and begs pardon. He has promised to bring the money to me to-night, if he can: if not, he is to come over to you with it on Monday. His conduct, in every thing, is very unsatisfactory: he seems now very much humbled, by his troubles and fears, doubtless: there is no sign of sorrow for his sin, as far as I can see; but Ahab's humiliation was not disregarded.

Such are some of the principal persons through whom Mr. Rhenius hopes to be the channel of spiritual blessings to the Congregations in Tinnevelly; and under these men, who have declared their adherence either to the Society or to Mr. Rhenius, just as circumstances arose, and their temporal interests seemed most likely to be promoted. Of those who have resisted the sinful proceedings of these men, the principal have been, the Rev. John Devasagayam, Asirvâdam, and Daniel;—and to whose "intrigues" and "wickedness" Mr. Rhenius attributes the troubles that have arisen. To the character of the first, let all who have ever personally known him, Chaplains, Missionaries, Civilians, and Military, bear witness to his Christian integrity and simplicity. For the second, the Rev. Messrs. Schaffter, Müller, and Lechler, Mrs. Winckler, and all his fellow-labourers, have all acknowledged his uprightness: and Mr. Schaffter's own statements bear ample testimony to the Christian character of Daniel, to the time of Mr. S.'s separation from the Church Missionary Society.

"Congregations."]—There is every reason to believe that scarcely one Congregation, if any, even knew of a request being sent to Mr. Rhenius to return.

"Having assembled them together on the 28th last."]—We beg our friends to consider, whether it can be right to support so unjustifiable a proceeding as this. The Catechists were, at the moment of Mr. Rhenius's summoning them, in the service and pay of the Church Missionary Society; they were engaged in their work in their several villages; and had received orders from Mr. Pettitt to remain at their posts, till he himself permitted them to leave. To Mr. Pettitt himself and the Society they owed obedience in the sight of God, if employment on the one part and pay on the other enjoin obedience; and yet Mr. Rhenius deliberately incites them to disobey, by calling them away from their posts.—The Postscript to Mr. Rhenius's Letter virtually acknowledges this, and is a striking instance of the way in which persons blind their own eyes, when they follow their own inclinations. The words we refer to are these:

"P.S. The Catechists have written a request to you, for their pay of the last month, and some previous months. I think it is but just they should receive it. If you have no objection, then please send it to me."

Mr. Rhenius called on Mr. Pettitt, and voluntarily abstained from speaking to him on the subject: afterwards, Mr. Pettitt remonstrated with Mr. Rhenius upon such an unjustifiable measure; and offered, if Mr. Rhenius would recal his order, to summon the Catechists himself, and to produce every paper he had, to enable Mr. Rhenius to inquire into both sides of the question. To this proposition Mr. Rhenius did not assent.

"I have in these days."]—It is right that our friends should know such facts as may enable them to judge of Mr. Rhenius's journey to Tinnevelly. Both to some of his friends, and to the Corresponding Committee, he declared his object to be inquiry. Now, before his departure, he received a communication from the Committee, to declare their willingness to lay all the evidence they had before their common friends (to be named by the Committee and Mr. Rhenius); who should examine into the whole matter, in the presence of Mr. Rhenius and the Secretary, and deliver their opinion. This reasonable proposal Mr. Rhenius declined: 1st, Because his bearers were already engaged. 2dly, Because the Committee would not pledge themselves to abide by the decision. This, of course, they could not do, holding only a delegated authority; but it was very evident that the opinion of three Christian friends, on whichever side it was given, must materially affect the judgments and conduct of all the parties interested. Instead of this, Mr. Rhenius proceeded to Palamcottah; and held, what was, necessarily, an ex-parte examination, in the place where, any one who knows the Native character must be aware, he would be least likely to get at the truth; and there (as might have been anticipated) pronounced his judgment, and resolved upon remaining.

"These we claim, &c.]—We cannot but think that our friends will be deeply pained to learn to what lengths Mr. Rhenius has suffered himself to proceed. 1st, When Mr. Rhenius and the Brethren left Tinnevelly, they did, in the judgment of all impartial men, relinquish all claims to all concern with the Mission, understood in the largest sense of the word: Mr. Rhenius, in the first place, and subsequently Messrs. Schaffter, Müller, and Lechler, delivered over the property, funds, and accounts to the Rev. Secretary for the Church Missionary Society: and Mr. Rhenius afterwards called upon his friends to support him in his new Mission at Arcot. Neither in justice nor equity could he from that time claim the least interest in any part or person in the Mission. 2dly, The balance in hand, which was delivered over to the Secretary, was the balance of the whole Fund, Local and Mission Fund;—by which act, all connexion with the Local Fund was relinquished. 3dly, The abstract of accounts kept by Mr. Rhenius, and bearing his signature, will clearly show that the Churches and Catechists' houses were built out of the General Fund, and not especially out of the Local Fund. 4thly, and lastly, We deny, altogether, that Mr. Rhenius ever had any individual right over the Local Fund; and that whatever right he possessed, ceased to exist the moment he ceased to be a Missionary of the Church Missionary Society. We quote the words of the Home Committee on this subject, in their Letter of February 13, 1835.

Whatever Mr. Rhenius had acquired in the Mission, by the influence of his personal character, or the Divine blessing on his labours, he had acquired as a Missionary of the Church Missionary Society. It is therefore clear that Mr. Rhenius, by voluntarily pursuing a course which compelled the Committee to dissolve their connexion with him, divested himself of all right to regulate or interfere with the conduct of the Mission, in any way whatever, after that connexion was dissolved. It is further to be considered, that Mr. Rhenius was only one Missionary, out of several employed to carry on the Mission.

"Gospel liberty."] — There has been no instance whatever, as far as the Committee can learn, of the slightest attempt to interfere with any man's conscience, or to impose upon their Catechists any rite or ceremony. As an instance, the kneeling at the Lord's Supper:—the only Native communicants in the Tinnevelly Mission have been about 50 or 60 of the Catechists, and a few private individuals; and to them it has been repeatedly said, by the Secretary and Mr. Pettitt: "It is our practice to kneel, and we prefer it: as for yourselves, we leave it to you; let those who like to sit, sit; and those who like to kneel, kneel:" and the same course has been pursued, in all similar cases.

"About the Church here," &c.]— Those of our friends who know the spot, will not be a little surprised and grieved at reading this, when they are told, that this is the large Church within the Mission Compound, in which the English Services for the European community are held.

We now beg to subjoin the Rev. Mr. Pettitt's reply to the Letter on which we have commented above.

MY DEAR BROTHER—I have received your Letter, containing a list of the Catechists and Congregations, whom you say have joined you; and also a paper, which I suppose is the request of the Catechists for their pay, of which you speak in your Letter. I perceive it comes from a number of Catechists.

To your Letter I have to say, in reply, that, in your examination, you have not heard what I have to say; and therefore you have not acted according to the common principles of justice, and do not know the truth; or, if you do know the truth, you have acted in a way that must astonish every one who loves truth. —What you mean by "wrong which the Catechists have suffered," I do not know: it would have been well to say from whom they have received it, and what it is: as you have not, I cannot say any thing more respecting it.

As to my refusing to send you my reports to the Committee, you know I offered to send to the Committee for them, and to show you my notes here from which they were made; offered you the fullest information; and invited the strictest investigation, if you would retract your interference with my authority. But you were evidently afraid to inquire.

As to your having "done your duty," in taking away these Catechists and Congregations from us, and not having "used any unfair means," the Great Day of account will decide that. But, as you have given in your opinion, I also give mine,—that you have committed one of the most atrocious acts of injustice that is recorded in the history of the Christian Church.

How you can have the face, after what you have done, to request me to desist from the superintendence of the Catechists and Congregations in question, I cannot tell.

You say, that (as you are informed) I told the Catechists, last month, that "whoever will unite with me, or with you, let them"; and you then proceed to comment on it. Now, allow me to ask, if you applied to me, to know the truth of this statement: I was near, and correspondence has been going on between us. You write as if you believe this. I declare it to be false. I never said any such thing, nor any thing like it. It must be a wilful perversion of truth, if not an altogether devised falsehood. I demand the proof that I made such an assertion. Instead of that, I told all the Catechists, that I should not accept the resignation of any Catechist; and ordered every one to remain at his post till the 31st of this month, and not to leave it earlier, without a notice from me. I took the names of those who voluntary gave in their adherence to the Church Missionary Society, many of which are down in your list; together with those of others who gave a written statement of their willingness to labour quietly under the then present Missionaries, and other things. Probably you will not learn, even from this, the character of those from whom you acquire such information.

As to the Chapels, concerning which you say you shall write to the Committee, I can only say, that until you have the Committee's assent to officiate in them, neither yourself nor those you employ can have my consent to make use of them. Neither do I acknowledge, but must deny, your claim to the Chapels of the Second District: they are in our possession; and I must forbid your making use of them, until you have the consent of the Committee: I have no authority to resign them, and will not. Nor can I consent to your making use of the Dohnavoor Church, for the same reason.

The orders to nail up the Chapels came from me. I am surprised at your remarks on the subject, especially at that which professes to regard the honour of the Christian name.

After your conduct and Letter, your offer of an explanation of the conclusion to which you have come, in a conference, must be judged of by others, being of too delicate a nature for me to decide upon.

Your Postscript refers to the request sent by the Catechists for their pay. You say, "It is just they should receive it," and thus acknowledge that they have been in my service the last month; and consequently, they left their stations by your order, while in my employ. I do not refuse to give them their pay; but I must refuse their paper coming through you. I shall not send their money to you, nor depart from the usual way of paying them. How could you ask me such a thing, while you are acting thus?

I have heard that the Catechists, whom you yourself say you sent to their stations (observe, during the very month in which you send to me for their pay of that month), have received their pay already from you. Will you inform me, distinctly, whether it is so, or not?

Herewith I return the paper of the Catechists referred to above.

I am yours sincerely,

GEO. PETTITT.

Palamcottah, Oct. 31, 1835.

The Committee will further briefly notice the following points; as they have reason to fear that misrepresentations regarding them have been widely circulated.

1. It has been absurdly reported, that the people were required to have stone altars. The fact is, that there is not a Church which has a Communion-table, unless that in the Mission Compound; at Satankullam; and perhaps at Dohnavoor;—that when one Catechist made some allusion to this, the Secretary smiled, and said, "In England we have wooden tables, just like this; but if any of the people wish to have one of stone, we know of no objection."

2. It has been widely reported, that the Rev. G. Pettitt flogged the boys till the blood ran. We insert his own account; and can only regret that Mr. Rhenius should have spread this story far and wide, upon Native testimony, without first referring to Mr. Pettitt. We insert Mr. Pettitt's remarks on this report, from a Letter to the Secretary, dated Palamcottah, September 24, 1835:—

"But however, they, (the Catechists, Mr. Rhenius's informants) could not pretend to believe that I flogged the Seminary boys till the blood flowed, as they must have known that they were writing a wilful lie. Not a drop of blood flowed, nor was the beating (sound as it was, and I intended them to feel, for their conduct had been very insubordinate all the week) any thing approaching to blood."

Subsequently, Mr. Pettitt personally charged Mr. Rhenius with the injustice done by him to his Ministerial character, in setting abroad, on Native testimony, this report: which charge Mr. Rhenius treated with levity; remarking, that he had only translated a Native Letter, and circulated it.

3. There is also an equally false report prevalent, that the Secretary communicated to the Home Committee his intention of resigning his office, in case they did not see it their duty to dissolve their connexion with Mr. Rhenius; and thereby influenced their minds in the decision they came to. The origin of this report is easily explained. The Secretary certainly felt that he could not conscientiously continue in his present connexion with the Church Missionary Society, if they departed from their fundamental laws, and abandoned the principles they had uniformly professed: and he therefore wrote to his own family, stating his views of his own path of duty, and enclosing his Letter of resignation, to be delivered only in the event of the Home Committee deciding to continue their connexion with Mr. Rhenius: at the same time, they were directed not to let his intention be known to any one but themselves. The Home Committee came to their final decision early in February; and a Member of the Secretary's family, who left home in the beginning of May, assures him, that, up to that time, his injunctions to secrecy have been strictly followed. There are those likewise now at Madras who have had personal and confidential interviews with the Home Secretaries and other Members of the Committee, and continued in England till May and June, and who have distinctly stated, that, even up to the time of their departure, the Home Committee were entirely ignorant of the Secretary's intention. Indeed, it is his belief, not only that no Member of the Home Committee had the slightest hint of the subject, but that, up to this present time, there are only two persons in England who are aware of it.

As an instance of the evils that must necessarily result from Mr. Rhenius's presence in Tinnevelly, the Committee give the following extract from a Letter from Mr. Pettitt, just received, dated November 7, 1835:—

"Three of our Catechists, who had joined Mr. Rhenius, and a person who had been sent round among the Congregations in behalf of Mr. Rhenius's cause, have deserted Mr. Rhenius, and sent back their money and commission to him, and joined me. I have been to several Congregations which Mr. Rhenius has written in his list. They told me plainly, they joined him in hopes of bettering their worldly condition.—Several Congregations are written down in his list, and one Catechist, who never joined him; and several Congregations are divided, some for him, and some remain firmly with us."

The Committee are prepared to make further communications, if it appears necessary, to the friends of the Society. They have no wish for concealment; and the only thing that has induced them hitherto to remain silent, has been a desire to make every sacrifice they could, consistently with their obligations, for the sake of peace.

If it should appear to their friends, that the course which Mr. Rhenius is now pursuing is altogether unjustifiable, the Madras Corresponding Committee entreat them to use all their influence to induce him to return to labours, upon which he was just entering with the good wishes, prayers, and cordial co-operation of all his true friends.

By order of the Committee,

J. TUCKER, Secretary.

(See P. 35.)

THE MISSIONARIES AT WELLINGTON VALLEY TO HIS EXCELLENCY THE GOVERNOR OF NEW SOUTH WALES.

Mission House, Wellington Valley, Dec. 31, 1834.

THE Missionaries, in presenting a Second Annual Report of their labours among the Aboriginal Natives of New Holland, are happy in being able to state, that their prospects of being useful to these so deeply degraded, and so long neglected, Tribes are more cheering than when the former Report was drawn up.

The prejudices which formerly were so strong against the Missionaries are, in a great measure, removed; and many of the Natives have acknowledged that the design of the Mission is a good one; and they believe that, by and by, "black fellow make a light" (acquire knowledge). They have left their wives at the Mission House, in large numbers, for months successively, when they have gone on their expedition into the bush. The Natives in general have come to the Establishment in larger numbers than in the preceding year; occasionally to the amount of eighty or a hundred: they have also remained there longer, and evidently with more confidence. Many have been induced to work in the Mission garden, in the paddock, &c. In the spring, one youth was engaged in driving bullocks at plough, and occasionally in ploughing: during the harvest, eight natives were daily employed in reaping: several have planted maize-corn, melons, and pumpkins, and sown tobacco-seed for themselves: some of the children have each a small plot of ground in the Mission garden, which they respectively cultivate for themselves.

The Missionaries have itinerated, on several occasions, to the distance of from forty to seventy miles in each direction. On these journeys, when they have met with Natives who had seen them at Wellington Valley, the most friendly disposition has been invariably manifested toward them: they have also given sufficient evidence, that they had not forgotten the daily custom at the Mission House of presenting prayer and praise to the Great God and Saviour of mankind, by readily kneeling down and uniting with their Christian Teacher in this sacred duty.

In the month of February 1834, one of the Missionaries and his wife, with an European servant and a native girl, commenced a journey into the interior. A native youth, who had generally been at the Mission House since October 1832, expressed his desire of going; but it was thought advisable, for several reasons, to leave him on the Establishment. However, he felt the disappointment so keenly, that he went before; and having cut down and gathered a number of large boughs &c., he laid them across the road, to impede the progress of the cart, for the distance of two miles. (This youth, after his return, of his own accord removed them all, saying he had done wrong to place them there.) When the company had proceeded about three miles, the youth came up and begged to be allowed to go, which was agreed to; for however improperly he had acted, it cannot be forgotten that he was a heathen. On their journey, several Natives joined and proceeded with them. Every evening, all the Natives who were present united with the Missionary in family worship, and afterward repeated their prayers in a very solemn manner. This was indeed an interesting scene; — to behold a number of heathen savages in the open wilderness, upon their knees, observing the greatest decorum, addressing the august Majesty of Heaven and Earth. Goongeen, a native youth, always took the lead, and acted as prompter in these devotional exercises.

It was intended to proceed to Gingin; but having been joined by so many Natives, the stock of provisions became exhausted; and after travelling about eighty miles in a north-west direction, it was found necessary, on that account, to return. About one hundred Natives were seen during this tour, and were conversed with on the subject of Religion, &c. The native girl who accompanied the Missionary from Wellington Valley was of great service, acting as an interpreter in cases where the Missionary could not make himself understood; and it was remarkable how strongly she sometimes argued with the Natives on religious subjects. Medicine was administered to about thirty who were sick; and several came with the Missionary to Wellington Valley. The weather was sometimes very unfavourable; the lightning was so vivid, and the rain descended in such torrents, that it was with difficulty the horses could proceed.

The Missionaries, by holding frequent intercourse with the Natives, have obtained more accurate views of their opinions on various subjects. It is now proved, beyond dispute, that they believe in the existence of a spirit, distinct from the body, and which survives its dissolution. Though there are among them, as indeed among all nations, some professed unbelievers on this subject, who frequently say, "Black fellow die altogether;" yet, like the infidel in the storm, from this position they are easily driven, by reference being made to their constant fear of death, and their dread of going near a grave, or a hut where a person, lately dead, formerly resided. They say, that "Byamy, who sits down long way off, over the great waters, near to England, made every thing, and every body first time:" it may, eventually, appear, that they do believe in a First Cause. Conversations are frequently held with the Natives respecting Byamy; but their accounts are so mysterious, that it is very difficult to understand them; and when they are asked questions which they cannot answer, they conclude the subject, by saying, "Don't like to talk about him: he will be very angry."

Several months ago, there was a general opinion among them, which emanated from some one eminent Native living a great way off, that in a short time there would be a general inundation; but, previously to its occurring, they would receive a warning, when they should erect a very large hut, in which they were all to dwell; and that animals eaten by them as food would voluntarily proceed to the hut, and remain there for their consumption. When time pressed on, and the great flood came not, upon being interrogated on the subject, they replied, "Oh, that happened long time since!" Whether this is a fragment of the tradition respecting the Deluge, it is not easy to determine.

In October 1833, Goongeen, a native youth, accompanied one of the Missionaries on a visit to Sydney. In many respects, it appears desirable that persons in his situation should have an opportunity of witnessing the comforts and advantages of a civilized life. But it must be confessed, that, in a moral and religious point of view, such a circumstance is replete with danger, from that depravity of morals which so generally disgrace our cities and towns. As the youth was anxious to see Sydney, it was deemed more prudent for him to accompany the Missionary, than others who would encourage him in the indulgence of his evil propensities, and who would probably introduce him to scenes of vice to which he had before been a stranger. Of all the strange things he beheld there, nothing seemed to surprise him so much, or to make so deep an impression on his memory, as St. James's Church full of persons, assembled together for Divine Worship, and the sound of the organ. Many times since his return he has remarked, "Sydney, hye, hye, every body goes to Church at Sydney: great music there. What for not make Church here like Church at Sydney." He seemed much astonished at the fine furniture which he saw in some respectable houses; and asked, "Who made all them things?" To him this was quite a novel scene; as the seats at the Mission House consist principally of benches, boxes, and broken chairs. At Sydney, Goongeen saw some of the New-Zealanders; and being told that very many of their countrymen were converted to Christianity, and several were engaged in preaching the Gospel, he has frequently made this a subject of conversation with his Native Brethren. The Missionary does not at present see any reason to regret his taking the youth with him, as there is ground to hope he thereby rather profited than otherwise. The return of Goongeen to Wellington Valley was hailed with delight by many of the Natives, who had been made to believe that he would never return. Great pains had been taken to dissuade him, as well as King Bobby, who was very anxious to see His Excellency the Governor, from going; being told, that the Missionaries would put them in chains, and send them to England. Several instances have occurred in which some of the Natives have evidenced solicitude for the safety of the Missionaries, in times of apparent danger. On one occasion, when one of the Missionaries, in company with several Natives, was returning from a journey into the interior; when several miles from home, and late at night, they were overtaken by a violent storm of thunder, lightning, and rain;—indeed, so tremendous was the hurricane, that the Missionary lost his horse-cloak, hat, and all his travelling apparatus: the night was so dark, that not an object could be discerned, except by the flashes of lightning. To prevent the Missionary falling over any stumps of trees, or in passing through creeks, two of the Natives voluntarily took him between them, each taking hold of his arm. On another occasion, when the land at Wellington Valley was flooded, as one of the Missionaries was riding through a paddock in company with a Native, his horse stumbled, and, after making several plunges, laid himself down in the water: in a moment, the Native dismounted, had the Missionary on his arms, and placed him upon his (the Native's) horse.

There have been, at different times, on the establishment, during the past year, thirty children, to whom instruction has been given. Some have remained but a short time; others, longer; and some have continued with the Missionaries. It has been remarked, that the Native Children might be taught to imitate certain sounds, or to remember those imitations, and no more; but the Missionaries are happy to say that it is far otherwise. The gate to knowledge is, in a great measure, secured against their admission; and they manifest no curiosity to know what is contained therein. Learning to read appears to them a work of impossibility, and therefore they have no heart to it; but when they have once become able to read, and their minds have been thereby expanded, they become inquisitive; learning is no longer looked on as a task, but esteemed as a privilege, as well as a source of delight. Several months ago, two boys refused to grind their wheat, and went to the river. In the evening, they returned, and came up to the window as the children were at prayers: when they came to that petition in the Lord's Prayer, 'Give us this day &c', the boys outside repeated, in an emphatic tone, "Give us this day our daily bread; give us daily bread for all day; and forgive us our trespasses."

The following will tend to show the simple, yet pleasing manner in which these Heathen Children often converse. The conversation took place in the garden, after the departure of a gentleman.

Geanil: "Who is that gentleman? Is he an Englishman?" Missionary: "No."—"Oh! an Irishman?" "No; he is a Scotch gentleman."—"Oh! Scotch gentleman. Does land where he lives belong to your king?" "Yes."—"Oh! all white masters belong to your king; King William, Sovereign Lord King William. You pray for your king every Sunday: is he a good man!" "Oh yes! he prays to God, and goes to Church."—"Gracious Queen Adelaide! Who is Queen Adelaide?" "The wife to King William."—"Is she a good woman?" "She always reads the Bible, prays to God, and goes to Church."—One of the little boys then started the following conversation. Ormby: "Sheep mutton sit down at Sargeant's." Missionary: "Yes, the flesh of sheep is called mutton."—"Who makes mutton?" "God makes sheep, the flesh of which is mutton."—"First time, I believe," (that is, God made sheep at first). Geanil: "God always makes it, to be sure: God makes all about. First man God made, was Adam: then he ate of the tree of knowledge of good and evil."—Missionary: "Yes, Satan tempted him, and he did eat of it, although God had told him not to eat of it."—"No weeds in garden then. Did Adam die then?" "No."—Dicky Marshall: "No; God came down from heaven, and turned him out of the garden, with a sword which went this way" (waving an old shingle about with his hands).—Geanil: "Is Adam in heaven now?" "Yes; God told him that Jesus Christ His Son would, in process of time, come down from heaven, and die for him and all men: he believed God, and was very sorry for his sins: then God forgave."—"Then he went to heaven, when he died?" "Yes."—"Eve too?" "Yes."—Dicky Marshall: "Enoch, too, went to heaven." Geanil: "Enoch did not die."—"Abel, too, went to heaven; not Cain."—"Why did not Cain go to heaven?" "Because he was wicked; he killed his brother Abel." In this manner the children often converse among themselves. Many quick and promising boys have been enticed away from the Mission House by European servants in the neighbourhood. And when it is remembered that elsewhere they are under no moral restraint, but rather encouraged in all kinds of vice, instead of its being a matter of surprise that so few remain at the Mission House, where they are necessarily subject to controul and under discipline; it is rather remarkable that any will remain where every thing is so uncongenial with their habits and dispositions.

The migratory habits of the Natives prevent them from receiving that degree of Christian instruction which is desirable; but as they are always conversed with on religious subjects, and attend the Church when at the Mission House, it is hoped that some good, some real spiritual benefit, will be the result. And when it shall please the Almighty to convert any of them to the Christian Faith, their predilection for wandering about, should it remain with them, will doubtless be a great facility for extending the glad tidings of Salvation far and wide; as the Establishment is occasionally visited by Natives from the distance of 100 miles.

But it must be acknowledged, that until the Missionaries are able to address the Natives familiarly in the Aboriginal language, no considerable success can be expected from their labours. During the past year, constant attention has been given to collecting words and sentences, analysing them, forming a Vocabulary, and arranging matter for a Grammar. The following portions have been translated into the Aboriginal language. 1. The Lord's Prayer, the Apostle's Creed, and the Ten Commandments. 2. Chap. I. II. III. of Genesis. 3. Chap. I. II. III. IV. part of V. VIII. XXVI. XXVII. XXVIII. of St. Matthew's Gospel. 4. Some of the Miracles of our Lord.

It was thought more eligible to translate an account of the Creation of the World, the Introduction of Moral Evil, the Decalogue, the Birth of Jesus Christ, His Baptism and Temptation in the Wilderness, some of His Miracles, His Accusation, Trial, Death, and Resurrection, as forming the leading subjects of converse with the Natives, than to proceed regularly with one book.

It may have been expected, that, ere this, something in the form of a Translation would have appeared, as the result of Missionary labour. It is true, indeed, that the Missionaries could, some months ago, have presented for publication some of the result of their labours in the language; but they were well aware, that such translations would eventually have proved very inaccurate, and any expense incurred by its publication would have been employed to no useful purpose.

It will be acknowledged by all, that the attainment of an unwritten language, spoken by savages unacquainted with the manners and customs of civilized life, is at all times a work of intense study and of incessant application. In the present instance, it is rendered more difficult by the constant use of words by the Natives which are altogether spurious, being neither English nor Aboriginal. Moreover, as ideas cannot be intelligibly communicated but through the medium of words known both to the speaker and hearer, the Missionary has first to teach the English Language to the person from whom he would learn the Aboriginal.

But, after all possible attention has been devoted to the language, the Missionaries apprehend that no translation of the Scriptures, sufficiently correct for publication, will be produced, until some of the Natives are converted to Christianity: so it has been found in other Missions, and so it may be in this. As this a matter of opinion, when the Missionaries have done their utmost it will be left for others to decide on this point. From the great interest which the Natives take in repeating their prayers, and in hearing portions of Scripture read in their native tongue, the Missionaries cannot but infer, that, as their knowledge of the language advances, the door of usefulness will be gradually opening wider and wider. On one occasion, when a portion of the Scriptures in the Aboriginal language was being read, the Natives who were a round the hut, on hearing it, came in, and sat around the Missionary, of their own accord. When he had finished, one of them, almost in an ecstasy, jumped up and exclaimed, "Book for blackfellows! Book for blackfellows!" Their conduct at Church is remarkably correct: the most indecorous behaviour, of which they are guilty, is occasionally falling asleep. It is not in the power of the Missionaries to record in a Report all the pleasing features of their Mission, or all the trying scenes through which they have to pass. It will never, to a reflecting mind, appear, that the path of a Christian Missionary among savages is bestrewed with flowers, or that his mind is the seat of calmness and tranquillity. In this Mission, where Natives of both sexes are under instruction on the same spot of ground, the Missionary is called to witness painful, yea, heart-rending circumstances, which can never be recorded for the perusal of an enlightened and Christian Public. Cradled in prostitution, as it were, and fostered in licentiousness, the female children brought under instruction in the families of the Missionaries do not lose their propensity to vice, as with a charm. Nothing but Divine Grace can eradicate those propensities, by the regeneration of the soul; and until that glorious change be effected, the minds of the Missionaries will be constantly exercised with anxiety.

The entire failure of the crops of wheat of 1833, and maize of 1834, at Wellington Valley, and the high price of flour, together with the increase of Natives in the Establishment, have greatly augmented the expenditure of the past year. But while the Missionaries were careful to distribute to the Natives a moderate supply of provisions, they were equally anxious to observe the greatest economy. From sixteen acres of wheat, a very fair crop has been reaped and gathered in; which, it is presumed, will be sufficient for the consumption of the ensuing year. A few acres of maize corn have been planted; but, owing to the dryness of the season, it is apprehended there will be no crop.

In conclusion, the Missionaries desire to present their grateful acknowledgments to His Excellency the Governor, for defining the boundaries of the land for the service of the Mission.

It has been considered advisable to bring the Report down to the close of the year, so as to make it more regular; and, as it will include the state of crops, it will afford means of estimating more accurately the probable expenditure of the ensuing year.

ASSOCIATIONS OUT OF LONDON AND ITS VICINITY.

 Some misapprehension having arisen with regard to the Association Balance Sheets appended to the Society's Report, the Committee beg to state that there is no connexion between those Balance Sheets and the Balance Sheet of the Parent Committee. The Association Accounts are, for the most part, made up to the period of their respective Anniversary Meetings, and thus, necessarily, vary from the Parent Committee's Balance Sheet, which includes the actual payments made at the Society's House between April 1st and 31st March in each year, and is, therefore, quite irrespective of the periods at which, for local convenience, Association Accounts are made up and balanced. An Account Current is kept at the Society's office with each Association, by which the actual transmission of its Receipts to the Parent Committee is shown. The appending to the Society's Report of the Balance Sheets of the Associations may be regarded as a universal acknowledgement to the local Contributors that their contributions have been received by the Parent Committee; though the varying periods at which, as above stated, those Accounts are made up, render it impossible that their totals should correspond with the amount received from Associations, specified in the Parent Committee's Balance Sheet.

N. B. Benefactors of Ten Guineas and upward, whose Names have appeared in former Lists of the Associations, will now find them in the General List.

Church Missionary Society.

DISABLED MISSIONARIES' FUND.

THE COMMITTEE regard it an imperative duty to make some provision for Disabled Missionaries, and Missionaries' Widows and Children. The whole time of persons engaged in Missionary Work, in connexion with the Society, being dedicated to the prosecution of its objects, with a salary only sufficient for their necessary expenses, they obviously do not possess the means, enjoyed by men in other situations of life, of providing for a season of sickness, for their Widows in case of death, or for the Education of their Children. That those who, by the appointment of Divine Providence, are dependent on them for education and support, cannot be neglected without the violation of a moral obligation, is evident; and if the Missionary's whole time be devoted to the Society's objects, on a salary not more than sufficient to meet their necessary expenses, the Society seems bound to provide for the fulfilment of that obligation, which, from the very nature of his compact with the Society, the Missionary is incapacitated from personally fulfilling. To the Fund opened for this object, the Committee therefore solicit the Contributions of the Members and Friends of the Society.

A very effective means of augmenting this Fund has been adopted in the St. Stephen's Association, London, under the direction of its President, the late Secretary of the Society, the Rev. Josiah Pratt. Under this arrangement, small stated sums are appropriated to this Fund, and the Contributors' names are entered in a separate Collecting Paper prepared expressly for this object. The aggregate amount of these Contributions would be very considerable, were the plan generally acted on in the Associations. The Collecting Papers may be obtained by Associations, on application at the Society's House, Salisbury Square.

WEST INDIES' FUND.

THE COMMITTEE solicit Contributions to the Separate Fund, which, as a temporary measure, they have opened, in order to extend the operations of the Society in the West Indies, in the peculiar circumstances under which the now-Emancipated Negro Race is placed by the Slavery Abolition Act. Notwithstanding the Funds of the Society are in a prosperous state, it will not be in the power of the Committee to co-operate, in any adequate degree, in imparting Religious Instruction to the Enfranchised Population, and at the same time duly to sustain the Society's operations in its other Missions, unless their pecuniary resources are proportionably augmented. Impelled by the strong claims of the Black and Coloured Population of the West Indies on the sympathy and exertions of British Christians, the Committee have already sent out thither, IN THE PRESENT YEAR, Six Missionaries and Five Catechists. The object of one of the Missionaries is, to take charge of a School for training Teachers. Europeans can be employed only to a limited extent in a tropical climate; and therefore the agency of pious, well-trained, intelligent, and steady Black and Coloured Youths must be looked to, under the Divine Blessing, for the speedy and wide diffusion of Divine Truth among the Emancipated People. Hence the very great importance of the proposed Normal School. The operations to which the Committee have already pledged themselves, can however only be sustained by increased pecuniary means for that purpose, while many new calls are made on them for both Missionaries and Catechists.
